Spectacular Sea Rescue Saves 1,500

'I'll Go Back North to Get Warm'

Regrets that he'd forgotten to pack his fur-lined parka and mukluks were expressed by Bill Wood (centre), Rotarian from Ketchikan, Alaska, here today to attend the annual District 151 conference in Royal Theatre. "I thought this was supposed to be the banana belt," he shivered. But Ted Cox, Vancouver (left), and Pat Love, Tacoma, being loyal Northwesterners, claimed it was mighty warm for March. ### CIVIL DEFENSE PLANS OBSOLETE SAYS MARTIN

ARNPRIOR, Ont. (BUP) — The hydrogen bomb has made civil defense planning of the last few years obsolete, Health Minister Paul Martin said today.

Martin addressed a group of civil defense workers at the opening of the new Canadian Civil Defense College here.

"The whole free world is faced with the urgent necessity of reappraising the whole concept of the nature and scale of civil defense preparations... In the light of recent developments in the field of thermonuclear weapons," Martin said, "In the light of what we now know of thermonuclear weapons, it is clear that we are entering an entirely new phase of defense and civil defense planning."

UNUSUAL MONTREAL BIRTH

Two of Triplets Joined
At Head Fight for Life

MONTREAL (BUP)—Doctors fought today to save the lives of Siamese twin girls born Saturday with a third, normal baby to a 31-year-old woman.

The condition of the twins, who were joined at the tops of their heads, was reported "serious" and that of their sister and mother "very good" by doctors at Catherine Booth Maternity Hospital. They were born a month prematurely to Mrs. Elizabeth Savage of suburban St. Michel, Que., whose husband James works as a section head in a Montreal department store.

Savage told reporters: "It's like suddenly acquiring a whole new family without any way of supporting it." He and his wife have three other children, Donald, 9, Joy, 8, and Nancy, 6.

Doctors said the twins' attachment appeared solid—a bone union as well as a skin and scalp attachment—and the joint was at the crowns of their heads.

Dr. G. M. Bailey, who attended Mrs. Savage, said the first baby was "perfectly normal and healthy" and weighed about five pounds. The others, born 10 minutes later, each weighed about 4½ pounds. They were put in incubators where they will stay until they gain weight.

Dr. Bailey said lengthy examination by specialists will be necessary to determine if the twins can be separated. He said it probably would be about two months before anything was attempted.

Israel Admits Responsibility For 9 Jordan Dead

JERUSALEM (UP)—Premier Moshe Sharett of Israel tonight admitted Israeli responsibility for an attack on the Jordanian village of Nahalin, in which Jordanian sources claim nine Arabs were killed.

But he described it as "a local affair, by way of reaction" to a Jordanian attack on an Israeli village.

In addition to the dead, Jordan claimed 17 Arabs were wounded. Israeli casualties were not listed.

Jordan reports said 200 Israelis shot their way into the village, near Bethlehem, before dawn.

$16,543 Needed For Red Cross Fund

Seventy-seven per cent of the current Red Cross objective had been collected to noon today. Total on hand is $35,457. Goal is $72,000. The campaign ends Wednesday.

More than 800 canvassers are making an all-out effort to obtain the additional $16,543 by that time.

NINE DEAD IN B.C. ACCIDENTS

Crashes Kill Four; Two Die by Gas

British Columbia recorded a grim mark of nine accidental deaths during the week-end as four persons died in traffic accidents, three in a fire, one by carbon monoxide gassing, and one by domestic gassing.

Killed in traffic accidents were Mrs. Pauline Johnson of Newton, 43; Ken Robertson of Schumacher, Ont., 20; Mrs. Alma J. Nash, 65, of North Hill, near Salmon Arm, and Lyle Clark, 20, of Cloverdale. Frank Williams, of Penticton, died in his garage when he was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from his car, and Mrs. Phyllis Leitch, 38, died in her Vancouver home after being overcome by domestic gas.

SIX INJURED
Mrs. Johnson and Robertson died in a two-car head-on collision at the intersection of King George Road and Campbell River Road in Surrey on Saturday. Six other persons were injured in the same accident.

Mrs. Nash died in a two-car collision on the Trans-Canada Highway six miles west of Salmon Arm in the North Okanagan. Clark, a naval rating, drowned when his car plunged off a dock on the Fraser River at Port Kells. Three other persons escaped.

Mrs. Leitch, the 25th person to die of gassing in Vancouver this year, was found unconscious on the floor of her kitchen by her 18-year-old son, Graham, Sunday morning. All jets in the oven of her stove were open but not burning. Three persons, Mr. and Mrs. Helge Forsberg, both about 45, and Alex Beaudoin, 70, died in a house fire at Port Hardy Saturday. (See page 22.)

Assent Due Wednesday For Sales Tax Hike

Royal assent to the two per cent increase in the sales tax will probably come Wednesday afternoon with a visit to the Legislature by Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace.

This will enable the government to carry out its plans for boosting the sales tax, and putting the new hospital insurance plan into operation on Thursday, April 1.

'DON'T TRY TO GET ON ALL AT ONCE'

Canada's First Subway Opens in Toronto Tuesday

TORONTO (BUP)—Curious sightseers crowded into town today to be among the first to ride Canada's first subway when it opens Tuesday.

A new wave of invited guests was expected today to take part in the inaugural ceremonies. One of them was Vincent Impellitteri, former mayor of New York, who said Toronto's subway was "beautiful, just beautiful."

The four and one-half-mile subway up Yonge Street will be opened to the public at 1:30 p.m. and the Toronto Transit Commission urged would-be passengers not to try to get on all at once.

Yonge Street cars will be removed from service within 90 minutes of the opening. The subway's 104 cars can gulp down 40,000 commuters an hour and whisk them through the heart of Toronto in less than 20 minutes. A surface trip takes about twice that long.

The TTC expects to cart some 25,000 curious riders an hour for the next week or so until everybody has had a chance to try it out.

Ike Expected To Request Tariff Cuts

WASHINGTON (UP)—Informed sources revealed today that President Eisenhower has decided to ask Congress to cut tariffs even though the move is likely to kick off a major political squall.

Mr. Eisenhower called his Congressional leaders to the White House today for a preview of the proposal and the overall foreign trade program he is expected to outline in a special message to Congress this week.

Summoned especially for the meeting was Clarence B. Randall, Inland Steel chairman and head of the President's bipartisan commission on foreign economic policy. Informed sources said the President's program mostly follows the controversial recommendations which the group made two months ago.

The commission urged that the Reciprocal Trade Program—scheduled to die next June 12—be extended for three years and that the President be authorized to cut tariffs five per cent each of the three years.

NAGUIB

'... I want to die'

Naguib's Plan For Civil Rule Collapses

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—President-Premier Mohammed Naguib's plan for an early restoration of civilian rule in dissension-torn Egypt collapsed today.

But in a strange compromise agreement with his opponents inside the Revolutionary Council Naguib retained all his posts of power.

The about-face climaxed a series of events which began this morning when Naguib, fainting from strain at Cairo's airport and ended with the announcement that the plan to dissolve Egypt's ruling Revolutionary Council on July 24 and hold constituent assembly elections had been cancelled.

The decision was reached at a joint meeting of the civilian cabinet and the Revolutionary Council, at which Naguib presided briefly.

It apparently meant that Naguib had lost his shaky grip on the nation's quarrelling government.

Naguib's physical collapse at Cairo's airport and the week-end uprising against his plans to restore civil rule, played strongly into Nasser's hands in the bitter power struggle.

Naguib, apparently sensing his defeat, was said by witnesses to have whispered "I want to die" when doctors at a hospital revived him with heart stimulants.

COLD WEATHER TO CONTINUE; FROST TONIGHT

Thermometer Skids To 29.9 Sunday

There will be clear skies tonight and sunshine Tuesday, and continuation of the present frigid temperatures that have set new records for this time of year.

On Sunday the thermometer at the Gonzales Observatory dropped to 29.9 degrees to mark an all-time low for March 28. Temperatures tonight and Tuesday will range between 32 and 50 degrees, according to weatherman William Mackie, and winds will be light northerly.

He also warned against freezing temperatures and ground frost tonight in sheltered, low-lying areas of the city and district.

Winds were strong Saturday night, when a maximum speed of 37 miles per hour was reached at 11:30 p.m.

Despite the shivers on the part of the populace, daffodil growers are pleased with the turn of the weather, since the cold will retard growth and let the blooms reach their peak for the Easter season.

Salvage Vessels Seek to Refloat Barge; 17 Aboard

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Two salvage ships began an attempt to patch and refloat a self-propelled barge today which ran aground on Enterprise reef, just inside Active Pass along the B.C. coast.

The Straits Towing Co. sent the Salvage Queen and the Naimo Flyer to the scene to try to save the Kathy B, a barge owned by a Seattle fish cannery which was badly holed when she ran aground. A rip in the hull flooded the engine room.

The barge, which carried six crewmen and 11 cannery workers, was on her way to Juneau, Alaska, with wire netting and cannery equipment.

Women, Children on Ship Sunk in Mediterranean Suez Sabotage Suspected

(From UP and AP Dispatches)

ALGIERS, Algeria — British authorities today ordered an investigation into the possibility that the British troopship, Empire Windrush, swept by a near-disastrous fire in mid-Mediterranean, may have been sabotaged as it passed through the disputed Suez Canal zone.

In the greatest sea rescue of modern times, 1,500, including 125 women and 87 children, were saved from the burning vessel Sunday.

Four crewmen died in the wracking explosion which ripped the ship's boiler room before the fire. Even 27 mental patients, freed from locked cabins, were saved and helped direct the heroic rescue work.

The transport, en route to England from the Far East, had stopped at Port Said in the troubled Suez Canal Zone before the fire. British sea transport authorities said an inquiry will be made into the possibility that sabotage there might have touched off the later explosion and fire.

Flash fires raced through the vessel after the boiler room explosion and left the 14,661-ton vessel a burned-out hulk.

Warships Rushed to Aid Rescued

All save those who died in the explosion were brought safely to this North African port by four rescue ships. They had abandoned the burning hulk without panic and only 18 persons were injured—14 with minor burns and scratches, a 12-year-old boy with a broken leg and three adults with shock.

Two British destroyers arrived here today to assist the 1,500 survivors and the light carrier Triumph was expected momentarily to pick up the passengers and continue their trip to England. The destroyers, the Saintes and St. Kitts, were ordered to give all possible aid to civil authorities taking care of the survivors.

First rescue ship to arrive was the Dutch freighter Mentor, captained by Gerrit Hazelhoff, 55, a veteran of the sea for more than 30 years.

"Difficulties not great," he said, "Calm sea. No panic. Majority of survivors in boats came alongside in great discipline... rescue work did not last very long. Many ships in neighborhood who kept standby."

Captain William Wilson, master of the stricken vessel, said: "It must have been a generator or a boiler that blew up, but nobody can be absolutely sure of that."

Survivors unanimously told of an operation completed without a trace of panic. The women and children and 17 invalid soldiers were swiftly loaded into lifeboats as the flames spread.

"After that we threw everything overboard which would float—tables, benches and planks. Then the men began jumping overboard, all in perfect calm, because we knew rescue ships were at hand. We could see them steaming toward us."

Ordered to Jump Overboard

Then the bridge blew up and the captain ordered all those remaining to jump overboard. At first there was some hesitation. Then, amid cheers, a navy lieutenant—commander stepped to the rail and executed a neat dive into the sea with his cap still on his head.

Rescue ships already were in sight as the Empire Windrush was abandoned, the captain being the last to leave. The ship sank soon afterwards.

An on-the-spot investigation began here under Col. W. Odling of the adjutant general's branch of the war office who flew to Algiers soon after news of the Windrush was flashed to London.

AIRLIFT TO HOME

LONDON (AP)—A five-day airlift will bring home the 1,500 Britons rescued from the Empire Windrush fire, the war office announced today.

The operation starts Tuesday. The survivors, soldiers and their families homeward bound from the East, will be picked up at Gibraltar.

SECOND INSTALMENT

Welfare Costs Loaded on BCHIS

(Former Premier Byron Johnson, who "fathered" B.C.'s first hospital insurance scheme in 1948, has written an analysis of the new hospital scheme which will be presented to the Legislature. Mr. Johnson's plan was based on people being guaranteed hospital care in return for paying an annual premium. The new sales tax payment plan turns this into a completely new welfare scheme, Mr. Johnson finds. Following is the second article.

By BYRON I. JOHNSON
Now, may I, for the sake of the scheme which is being abandoned, review what has been accomplished by the hospital insurance service during the time it has been in operation, as revealed by Mr. Martin in his speech to the Legislature a few days ago. Let me first segregate the figures into categories where they belong—as below:

Analysis of Table on Page 16 of Mr. Martin's Speech
Applicable to Hospital Insurance	Municipal per diem grants	Welfare Department per diem grants	Provincial Department per diem grants
Premiums	$68,791,449.89	$4,036,185.29	$5,499,924.60
Subsidy	17,766,114.00		$6,986,460.10
Stabilization Fund	2,000,000.00
Less Cash	$88,557,563.89
	7,087,183.84
	$81,470,380.05

On Page 27 of the budget speech of 1952 which I presented to the Legislature on March 4, 1952, the following appears:

"However, Madam Speaker, it was not realized at the time that hospital insurance was established that the incidence of sickness amongst our aged people and others in receipt of welfare allowance was as high as it is. We find that the premiums paid for these persons do not begin to cover the hospital costs."

Since it was never intended that hospital insurance should finance our social assistance program, it has been deemed necessary to provide in the estimates for the coming year a further $1,546,000.00 which, together with the premium payments for those in receipt of allowances under our social welfare program, should be sufficient to cover the entire cost of hospitalization of such cases.

I make this explanation in detail, Madam Speaker, in order to emphasize that the government never intended, and does not intend, to burden those who pay premiums with the cost of those welfare services which rightfully belong in our Health and Welfare Department."

In Mr. Martin's report to the Legislature he lists payments which belong in the estimates of the Health and Welfare Department as a part of the cost of hospital insurance service. At the inception of the scheme the municipal governments and the provincial government each paid a per diem grant of 70 cents a patient in municipal areas, and the provincial government paid a 7.5 cent per diem grant for patients from unorganized territory, to the hospitals.

There was no intention to unload this expense on to the premium payers. This is made clear on Page 27 of the budget speech of March 4, 1952. To meet these expenses 2-per cent of the present 3 per cent sales tax was allocated to our welfare services.

For simplification in administration the subsidies were paid into the hospital insurance service. These are charges which are covered by the revenue from the present sales tax and should not be included as a cost in the hospital insurance service. These amounts, as listed by Mr. Martin on Pages 15 and 16 of his speech on the budget, are listed for the period

KILL 1,000 REDS Besieged Garrison Strikes at Viet Minh Units in Successful Jungle Counter-Attack

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—French Union forces broke out of their besieged fortress of Dien Bien Phu today and the high command said they killed 1,000 men on the Communist-led Viet Minh in a counter-attack outside the fortress' fringes.

French army headquarters announced French tanks, artillery and infantry, under the fortress commander, Col. Christian de Castries, killed all Viet Minh entrenched in two villages about two miles from the western line of the plan's defenses.

PULL BACK

It was the first major French counter-attack since the Viet Minh launched their great mass assault on the big northwest Indo-China outpost March 13.

During three days of screaming, wave-on-wave of infantry charges, withering French fire killed an estimated 3,000 Viet Minh troops and wounded another 9,000.

The Viet Minh pulled back to regroup, presumably for more mass assaults. Since then they have kept up the artillery bombardments from the hills surrounding the plain.

CBC's Victoria cameraman, Paul Johnson, "shoots" the first Times 3-D newspaper as it rolled from the press. First publication of its kind in Canada, the Times experiment is tentatively scheduled for telecast over station CBUT, Vancouver, at 7 p.m., Tuesday.

EXPERIMENT ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Majority of Times Readers Liked Novel 3-D Innovation

Most Times subscribers found the 3-D illustrations in Saturday's issue a worthwhile novelty, and got "quite a kick out of it," in the words of one comment.

A few, with poor eyesight, or color blindness, said they did not get the fine three-dimensional effect portrayed in the two-color photos when viewed with the red and green view glasses.

A brief survey of city readers brought these interesting comments:

Said W. E. Bryan, 2642 Scott Street, "I thought the three-dimensional pictures were O.K. In fact, the whole family got a big kick out of it."

Mrs. T. McPhail, 3042 Albany Road, felt the 3-D was "really pretty good. It was an interesting change."

Mrs. Stanley Winterbottom, 2823 Colquitz, registered a strong thumbs down. "I don't like the glasses at all. You should have left the paper as it usually is."

Mrs. E. Shepherd, 1063 Holmes Street, thought: "It was all very nice. The rest of the household seemed to enjoy it too."

Miss Jean Webster, 1548 Clawthorpe, was another who did not particularly enjoy it. "I was annoyed at having to use those glasses," she said.

"I found it quite interesting," said Mrs. E. G. Johns, 2125 Lansdowne Road. "It was a little difficult with the glasses, but it was certainly something different."

1,000 BEAT GUN TO SEE TREND HOUSE

Cash Home on View 3 Months

Close to 1,000 Victorians visited the Western Woods Trend House Sunday at 3516 Richmond Road in an unscheduled visit.

"It was not open to the public until today at 3 p.m.," said Mrs. Gwen Cash, owner of the house and official hostess. "But all those people were anxious to see the house, so we let them in."

It was built as a project of leading B.C. wood products associations to show the adaptability of western woods, and was designed by John A. Di Castri, architect.

Starting today, the house will be open from 3 to 9 p.m., seven days a week, for the next three months. Assisting Mrs. Cash as junior hostesses will be Mrs. Nonie Dunsford and Miss Jane Heiberger.

The Victoria house is one of 10 built in the major cities of Canada, with western woods predominating for all structural and finish work.

Don't Talk Yourself Out Of Friends and Popularity

A publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique of everyday conversation which can pay you real dividends in both social and business advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, self confidence and greater popularity.

The details of this method are described in a fascinating booklet, "Adventures in Conversation," sent free on request.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by what they say and how they say it. Whether in business, at social functions, or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can make a good impression every time you talk.

To acquaint more readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in everyday conversation, the publishers have printed full details of their interesting self-training method in a 24-page booklet which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. The address is: Dept. 5963, Conversation Studies, 835 Diversey Parkway, Chicago 14, Ill. A postcard will do.—Adv.

QUEEN, DUKE IGNORE POLIO PRECAUTIONS AT PERTH PARTY

PERTH, Australia (Reuters)—The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh today ignored strict anti-polio precautions at a Perth University reception.

By mingling informally with students and faculty members, they broke a rule which says they must stay six feet from guests and avoid shaking hands.

But at a garden party later at Government House, the anti-polio regulations were observed to the letter. The Queen and the Duke were never nearer than 12 feet from guests, who stood behind a rope cordon.

Mr. Gunderson in Japan

THE BENNETT GOVERNMENT is wisely sending an official representative, Mr. Gunderson, to Japan with a Vancouver Board of Trade delegation. The purpose of this mission is to find in Japan increasing markets for British Columbia goods. Undoubtedly such markets are available and could supply many jobs for British Columbians. But only if Canada is prepared to buy from Japan in something like equal measure.

At the moment we are selling to Japan more than six times as much as we buy from it. Such a one-sided exchange, of course, cannot continue. Japan can buy here only with dollars. It can earn them only by selling in Canada (or at least in dollar countries). Even to maintain our present modest but growing markets in Japan, therefore, we must greatly increase our Japanese imports. We must increase them still more if, as the British Columbia Government hopes, we are to increase our exports to Japan.

But Japan is only one of our foreign markets. Wherever we sell we must be prepared to buy or our sales will not continue long. And we are now entering a period where all sales outside Canada must meet drastic new competition.

Japan's massive and efficient industries are now pushing goods of many sorts into the world market. The huge industrial complex of West Germany is just hitting its stride, has recovered from the devastation of the war and is seeking markets all over the globe. Its low-priced automobiles (some of them seen on our own Victoria streets of late) are just one example of the world-wide competition which West Germany is now able to offer, and will offer with increasing force from now on.

The protectionists of Canada will reply, as usual, that we can restrict this competition by barring Japanese, German and other foreign goods from our Canadian market. Of course we can, but we cannot bar them from other markets where such things as British Columbia timber products, minerals, fish and foodstuffs must be sold. If Mr. Bennett understands that fact—as his dispatch of Mr. Gunderson to Japan seems to indicate—he is to be commended.

But has Mr. Bennett, have the manufacturers and labor unions of Canada appreciated another fact equally obvious and inescapable? Have they realized that the competitive power of all Canadian export goods is instantly affected whenever the cost of doing business in Canada is increased?

The cost is increased by two factors among others. When we restrict the importation of low-priced foreign goods we hold up prices in Canada for that is the purpose of the tariff. Since Canadians must pay those prices they demand commensurate wages. Their wages, in turn, hold up the cost of producing Canadian goods for export. All protectionist tariffs are an item in our cost of living and hence in our cost of production.

Secondly, any tax imposed by any government in Canada, from Ottawa to the smallest municipality, is an item of cost to anyone who produces goods for the domestic or foreign market. The Germans seem to understand that better than we do. Recently the West German Government has drastically reduced taxes on business and on the individual. That will reduce the cost of production in Germany and its export prices. The new cut in the price of German automobiles is just one small but significant item in this process. More undoubtedly will follow.

Yet at a time when competition is increasing the world over, when huge surpluses of some goods like foodstuffs threaten to increase competition still more, the Canadian Government is being urged to restrict imports, to hold up Canadian production costs and thus export prices.

Moreover, the Canadian Government, virtually all our provincial governments (with the notable exception of Ontario) and our municipalities are raising expenditures, and most of them are raising taxes. All these levies go into the cost of production. All of them damage our competitive position in the world market, on which the whole economy of Canada is largely built.

When, for example, Mr. Gunderson goes to Japan to promote the sales of British Columbia products there he is carrying with him an invisible burden—the huge taxes of the Bennett Government which are all included, directly or indirectly, in the prices which we must charge for our exports.

An Empty Gesture

THE COMMENT OF FRANZ Bluecher, acting West German chancellor, appears to sum up western reaction to Russia's declaration that East Germany is now an independent sovereign nation.

Said Bluecher: "Our German brothers and sisters will experience no change."

Of key importance in the Soviet announcement of the new status for East Germany is the added provision that the Red Army will continue to be "temporarily stationed" in the country. Thus while East Germany assumes a paper independence and a theoretical control of its own affairs, its people are actually no more free than they were before, no more able to chart their own courses than are the other satellite nations such as Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The Russian move evidently comes as a result of Mr. Molotov's failure to win any support for his proposals at the Berlin conference.

Working for Understanding

SEVERAL YEARS AGO A distinguished and cynical philosopher was asked where Rotary was going. His reply is a classic in brevity: "To lunch."

Long before the question was posed and during the time since the answer was given, Rotary has proved that its objective is far more than the fellowship of businessmen.

The movement has enjoyed wide success in expanding friendships beyond the association of the banquet table and has contributed significantly to the creation of international goodwill. Filling as it does so many of the community functions of the conventional service club, it reaches a much wider field, assisting students to understand the world in which they live and stimulating contacts which help to allay narrow nationalistic mistrusts.

As the clubmen from District 151, the largest in International Rotary, meet in Victoria, they are assured of appreciation for their good works and the spirit which inspires the movement—an effort of no mean proportions to make the concept of One World an operative philosophy.

Helping the Needy Patient

DR. LARRY GIOVANDO OF Nanaimo has made a definite admission in the Legislature. He says that he and other doctors are "chiseling" in the use of hospitals. When a needy patient comes to them and obviously requires special treatment, such as X-rays, the physicians often place him in the hospital under questionable diagnosis so that the patient may receive the treatment without charge.

Dr. Giovando makes no apology for the practice. It can be justified legally by the doctor on the grounds that his patient needs hospital care. If he has to appease his conscience for this "chiseling," that task is easy. He is observing the dictates of humanity which are frequently more important than those made by man. If the regulations permitted the specialized service for the non-bed case, the patient would not have to occupy hospital accommodation. Hospitals would be relieved of one cause of over-crowding and costs of their maintenance should not be so high.

Dr. Giovando's frank statement should convince the authorities of the need to change the regulations to meet needs. Such changes would not only serve humanity. They should also introduce a measure of economy in hospital use.

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

I HAVE been making up some fables, as all we busy little ants do now and then. (Grasshoppers make up songs instead. And incidentally, what fun it is to realize that La Fontaine was both an ant and a grasshopper at once. What you might call a Grant. Or if he wasn't a grant, at least he was a dispensation.)

Our fable for today is about a hare and a tortoise. They were living together, to save money. They didn't get in each other's way at all. The tortoise simply slept on the floor in winter, and in summer he slowly walked round and round the floor. This was supposed to be virtuous of him, but the hare could never remember why. Well, one day their flimsy boarding-house caught fire, and in no time at all it was a raging inferno, a holocaust, and a Spectacular Blaze (I think that's the phrase).

THE hare leapt nimbly through the window and was turning to warm his hands and admire the sparks when he suddenly remembered the tortoise. "Out of my way," he shouted to the astonished firemen, and he leapt back through the window, though it was on the second floor. "Hi, wake up, Soupy," he shouted to the tortoise. "The joint is on fire. We've got to get out of here, fast." The tortoise propped one eye open and replied "Now, look here, young smarty-pants. More haste less speed. Let's just think this thing out."

Oh, I forgot to tell you... he was a French tortoise, and very deep in politics.

TUSITALA CHILDREN at school and at home are taught not to tell tales... though they often prosper by telling them. However, the lesson is not well taught, for as soon as they leave high school or before, they all start writing short stories. All except 10 per cent of them, that is. The remaining 10 per cent either give courses in how to write short stories or else they set themselves up as fiction editors, literary agents, and reviewers.

When I say they spin yarns and tell tales and write short stories, I am naturally using the technical terms. In practice, hardly one of them is telling you a story at all. He is merely posing a few lay-figures against his background, indicating that he has a soul, and then describing various actions such as lighting a cigarette, pouring a drink, and so on. Not at all the sort of thing for which the gentle Samoans crowded that verandah in Stevenson's day. However, they are called stories. And if this simply means they are untrue, it is exact enough.

PERHAPS they even have an advantage over the old type of story. The old story used to advance, and it had its feet on the ground. That is to say, it was earthbound, and you could hear the ugly sound of its boots clumping along. Heavens, it might as well be the Jack Benny Program, which consists almost entirely of the noise of moving feet. (Did Jack Benny write "Boots"? Maybe he sells boots.) They manage these things better today. A modern story just floats in the air. You might call it a Space Story.

WELL, let us not dive too deeply into criticism. At least, not here from the shallow end, where we can dash our brains out. I merely started to say that everyone writes stories. And yet, here is a staggering thing. When the Sunday Times (of London) had a short story competition recently, and offered a fairly large first prize (with some very small other prizes), there were less than 9,000 entries. There were only 8,456, to be exact. You will find more short stories than that in a single year at any large university. Come on, you kids, what's the matter with you? Lazy? You can't expect the Government to write your stories for you, you know.

NOT TO THE SWIFT WHAT a hopeless task it must be to pick a winner from among 8,456 stories! I should think mere oddity does the trick. The petition he mentions is perfectly reasonable in its request, and I have come to that conclusion after careful study of it.

UNHAPPILY, about 400 other children entered the same race as myself. There was either no time or no inclination to organize this mob into a mob, the masters of ceremonies and the starters said to themselves "Oh, the heck with it," and they started us all off in a bunch. I think we were lined up eight deep at the starting post. It must have been awfully funny to watch. But those of us who were competing were in no mood for clowning. I bet you couldn't even have made us laugh with the words of Ecclesiastes: "The race is not to the swift."

As Our Readers See It

QUESTION OF ORIGIN

There was a Christian church in Britain fully two hundred years before St. Augustine landed in Kent in 596 A.D.

Augustine built a church upon the ruins of a more ancient place of worship, which was either a Roman temple (to the God Mars) or if a church, then not a Roman, but a Celtic church.

Almost two hundred years before Augustine arrived in Britain, Celtic monks were using Watling Street, the Roman road through what became "Canterbury", to the Continent.

Pelagius, the famous heretic, a Celtic monk from Britain, travelled that way to Rome as early as 405 A.D. He is described as "one of that remarkable series of Celtic monks who carried back to the Continent in a purified form, the religion they received from it." His mission, to Rome was to protest the new idea of relying on creeds and sacraments instead of teaching the tenets of Christianity, as did the disciples.

Pelagius "disappeared" and Arius, another "protestant" died "suddenly". St. Augustine, with the help of Bertha, the Frankish wife of Ethelbert, converted the latter to the new conception of Christianity as evolved at Nicea by the murderer Constantine, and his willing tool, Eusebius, in 330 A.D.

We have a parallel series of events in Scotland when Margaret, a Roman Catholic, in 1068 married Malcolm Cennmore of the Celtic Church.

Ethelbert, the Bretwalda or Cheann Tir, whom Canterbury is named after, "the bury of the Head man of the land," became a crowned king after the style of the Roman Church, and Malcolm Cennmore, the Head Chief, was crowned King of Scotland, in the same manner.

The office of Bretwalda, chief administrator of Brehon or British law, disappeared at the beginning of the 17th century, when the Norman, or Roman system, by violence, ended it in the Isle of Lewis, the last outpost of the Celtic Church or Church of St. Columba, in Scotland.

FACT ESTABLISHED

We live in a world where everything around it runs like clockwork. The sun, moon and stars all come out at the right time. The world goes around in space exactly at the right speed so that people can live on the earth.

Someone is responsible for this. That someone is God, the Creator.

Human creatures cannot tell what is going to happen even in one hour, but we read of statements made in the Bible of things that would take place hundreds of years ahead. We have seen many of these things taking place and we know many of these prophecies took place before our time.

Archaeologists have proved some of these things, such as the flood (which may be read of in Genesis 6th chapter).

In the Bible we also have an account of the Birth of Jesus, this was foretold hundreds of years before the event, especially at Isaiah 53rd chapter. The conditions on the earth at the present time were also foretold, such as world wars, famine, pestilence, delinquency of children. This is why we believe in the Bible as the word of God.

The Bible also tells us where we are on the stream of time. Our Calendar is dated from the birth of Jesus.

Having established the fact that there is a God who runs the Universe and also that the Bible is His instructions to us on how to live properly we may make quotations from this book. The Bible without any fear or contradiction.

LOOKING FOR SPIES

It appears quite obvious that E. H. D. has a hidden reason for writing as he does. The petition he mentions is perfectly reasonable in its request, and I have come to that conclusion after careful study of it.

Will E. H. D. tell the people of Victoria how many Communist fronts there are in Victoria and what names they masquerade under?

The fact is that they are constantly starting new fronts all over Canada in an endeavour to infiltrate and influence innocent citizens. The citizenry of Canada ada have a perfect right to be informed constantly on any Communist organizations or fronts that exist, that is the only way they are aware of the wolf in sheep's clothing.

Lenin stated "any ruse, any cunning, and deceit is permissible in the cause of creating the classless society." Why should not the communies be exposed for what they are? Reputable organizations do not attempt or want to disguise their identity.

As I see it all the petition asks for is a constant exposure of all Communist organizations and fronts for what they are as they appear. Surely they should be called for what they are, organizations set up to destroy our democratic way of life should get the full light of publicity constantly.

R. B. ANDERSON.

ATOMIC PRECEDENT

I believe you are Realist enough to appreciate the fact that since the U.S.A. set a precedent in dropping that Atomic bomb on Hiroshima, our professed enemies, in a desperate effort to forestall the supremacy of the Christian Commonwealth, will have no compunction whatever in unleashing any weapons they may possess for the utter subjugation of all else to their godless merciless philosophy of materialism when the time seems right.

I speak of powers—not peoples. Communism is godless, therefore without conscience, or mercy. In that philosophy, death wipes the slate clean, and free from any retribution, while the Christian Commonwealth, founded on the grace of God, has recourse to a merciful God for any shortcomings.

The Russian people are not godless. They are merciful human beings, like ourselves. So we are prepared to forestall any threat of war, or retaliate in kind, if it comes to the worst.

Well, do you want to see the earth run red with blood? Do you wish to see the results of man's inhumanity? Can you not see, with the stockpiling of lethal weapons, that such an eventuality is envisioned in some quarters—even to civil defense programs.

Will you want to live through, and after such a shambles, such terrible sacrifice of your neighbors, while presuming to believe in a merciful God? Albeit the shambles would be the result of man's inhumanity. Has God provided a way out? Well, Jesus said "ye shall not see me henceforth until ye shall see Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord".

If the Russians need a Saviour to deliver them—methinks our need is just as great.

S. A. WHITFIELD.

Since thanks to Communism, Brock for his very excellent article (Times March 22) on the proposed lead herding and grading of music-teachers, this proposed "Music Teachers Complete Registration Bill."

Who are the persons originally responsible for this outrageous concept?

We music teachers have been a meek lot and respectable too, because who ever heard or read of a music-teacher getting into jail, but now is the time for the worm to turn and refuse to register if this bill passes, thus striking a last blow for free teaching.

Thank you, Mr. Brock.

'SOME DISPLAY'

Will you please let me extend my thanks through The Times to those who thought out the idea for putting "Welcome to Victoria" on the Causeway.

I have looked at it and can see a great advertising plan in the making. Might I suggest Red Geraniums and Blue Lobelia would make a wonderful border for it also an Archway with hanging baskets to be done in small blue bulb lights to show-up at night. Also, a shower fountain at each end like the one leading up to the Parliament building only on a smaller scale.

Someday I hope to see each one of those mist sprays on the Building lawns illuminated, then you would really have some display.

Preserving Strict Equality

The Times (London)

"It is only natural," a citizen wrote in a letter to a weekly paper the other day, "that in small market towns and predominantly rural areas the Left is not fairly represented."

He was criticizing the BBC's habit of always broadcasting "Any Questions" from the West Region. The audiences in this politically backward part of the kingdom, he contended, greet a good Labour point with only languid applause but react with disproportionate enthusiasm to the sallies of a Tory broadcaster.

The effect of this is to produce on listeners an impression not in accordance with which as both agree, the two main parties hold the nation's esteem in almost equal shares.

One sees what this citizen means. The BBC has failed to meet his objections by explaining the theoretically impartial system on which tickets for these shows are distributed to West Countrymen; and it does not seem to have occurred to the corporation that, if all else failed, a technician (preferably a member of the Liberal Party) could be stationed at the control-panel with orders to twiddle the knobs in such a way that, if things were going one-sidedly, the mild handclaps given to one party were swelled to a storm of applause while the unthinking ovations accorded to the other dwindled to a remote, indifferent buzz.

It is at this point that one begins to glimpse the depth and the danger of the pitfalls underlying our democracy.

It is regrettable enough that districts and communities should exist in which the Left (or for that matter the Right) is not "fairly" represented. It is not wrong, though it is asymmetrical and rather inconsiderate of the people who live in these places to adhere predominantly to one party or the other; but it is not right that they should be allowed, by clapping their hands too little or too much, to produce upon millions of people in other parts of the country a misleading impression of the true worth of the opinions which they are applauding.

What is clearly required is the designation of a number of "safe" broadcasting areas where, since the parties are known to be evenly balanced, audiences could be allowed to attend broadcast discussions and debates.

They would, of course, be screened before being admitted to their seats, in order to ensure that the numbers adhering to either faction were exactly equal; and even then it might not be long so alert in these matters is the conscience of the welfare State—before objections were lodged on the grounds that the hands of the Socialists were larger, or the voices of the Tories shriller, so that one side was most unfairly in a position to make a greater din than the other.

Perhaps in the long run the most prudent solution would be to hand the whole front of the house over to a set of eminently respectable (though imaginary) people who are well known to possess no political convictions of any kind.

MARKED for READING

MANNERS MAKETH... The very word "politeness" is only the Greek for citizenship. The word "politeness" is akin to the word "policeman"; a charming thought. Properly understood, the citizen should be more polite than the gentleman; perhaps the policeman should be the most courtly and elegant of the three.

Becoming Aware of the Difference

A FEW DAYS on the Pacific Coast have removed any notion I may have had that thinking and talking about McCarthy is a local obsession in Washington, or perhaps regional on the eastern seaboard. About affairs which are centered in Washington, and concern the nation and its relation with the rest of the world, nothing else commands serious and continuing attention. Other matters, be they the administration's program, bills before Congress, or great questions of war and peace, like Indo-China, Korea, and EDC, are scantily noticed. And, if I may judge from a brief but varied sampling of private talk about politics, only McCarthyism is much on people's minds.

There is little doubt that his bid for power is the focal point of a national obsession, which cannot be put out of the public mind until it has been dealt with and disposed of. Nor is this an irrational obsession.

The instinct of the people is right in feeling that until we know who has the key power and the last word, other matters must wait. The merits of policies and of measures cannot be truly considered until the main question is decided: Is Sen. McCarthy going to succeed in capturing control of the Republican party, in dominating the Eisenhower administration, and in making himself in fact the big boss?

In the early stages of his adventure it may have been true that the attention he got from the press helped to build him up. But it is not true now that the publicity he is getting is building him up.

The national obsession which is giving him the fullest kind of attention is having the effect which the true believers in the freedom of the press have always counted upon. It is that given prolonged and uninhibited reporting, it is not only impossible to fool all the people all the time, but it becomes progressively more difficult to fool even some of the people all the time.

The breaking point in the movement of public opinion was reached when, in the ludicrous affair of the pink dentist, McCarthy accused the army of coddling Communists.

The American people have gotten to know the army well because so many millions of them have been in the army. They do not exactly think the army is perfect, nor do they love it without reservation. Yet there is scarcely a family in the country which does not have invested in the army something personal and poignant.

Just about the last thing they would think of complaining about is that this army, which has just fought a murderous war against armed Communists, and not merely against Fifth Amendment dentists, is coddling Communists.

There is a kind of prima facie absurdity, a self-evident incredibility, in accusing Gen. Zwicker of coddling Communists. When on top of that the people not only heard but actually saw the persecution of Mrs. Moss and an ad hoc committee of the Senate, the extraordinary solicitude of Mr. Cohn for Mr. Schine, the thing happened which can best be described as the breaking of a spell.

The spell that has been broken is that the McCarthy activities are a rough but a necessary salutary defense of the government, institutions, social order and the religion of the country against the Communist conspiracy and revolution.

Although McCarthy says that that is what he is doing, less and less believe it because he says it.

After he had accused the Democratic party of treason, though they had armed the free world against Communist expansion, he went on to accuse the Eisenhower administration of conniving and of softness. This has compelled the responsible Republicans to have another look at the claims and purposes of McCarthy's anti-Communism.

When they looked, they realized that he has played no part in the great measures which the country has taken to resist the expansion of the Communist orbit—and here at home he has netted no spies but only a few minnows at the cost of terrible injustice, of enormous injury to the good name of America, and the filling of our air with poison and stink.

For one reason and another our people are realizing that advertising yourself as the world's champion anti-Communist and being the world's champion anti-Communist are not necessarily the same thing. The fact that he denounces everyone who disagrees with him is not proof that he is more American, more loyal, and a greater patriot than anyone else.

The American people have a long experience with advertisements of cures—cures for cancer, for baldness, for deficient sex appeal, and for deficient incomes. They are all in favor of curing cancer, of being beautiful and irresistible, and of getting richer as quickly as possible. But they do not believe that the label or the prospectus is true because it is printed in big bold type.

They know that the most desirable objects, such as charity and the relief of suffering and the prevention of the calamities of life, are precisely those which quacks use to exploit the gullibility of men and women. When the nostrums are exposed, they do not suppose that the doctor who has exposed the quack is himself an advocate of cancer, of baldness, or of spindling.

The people are, in short, becoming aware of the difference between the appearance and reality, between the claims and the facts, between the label and the contents of the package.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Heredity in Marriage

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Today quite a few educated people who have a lot of hereditary disease running through their family are seriously concerned when they begin to contemplate marriage. Some of them know that the danger of having children will be multiplied if they marry someone who happens to be a carrier of the same type of family disease that they have.

I am sorry to say that when some of these people go to a physician who never had any training in genetics, or who now, for personal reasons, refuses to believe in heredity; he will say, "Forget it; go on and get married. You are all right." Unfortunately, I have seen many terrible disasters result from that sort of advice.

Today, real experts who have spent their lives studying the heredity of disease, after an analysis of his or her family record, can tell a person almost exactly what are the chances of his or her having a defective child.

A remarkable book just out on the heredity of psychoses is by my friend, Dr. Franz Kallmann, of Columbia University, New York City. In his book he shows that a man who has no known psychotic relatives back for three generations has only about a 0.7 per cent chance of developing a schizophrenic type of psychosis. If, however, the father or the mother was a schizophrenic, the chances of his being mentally disturbed jump up to 16.4 per cent. If both parents were schizophrenic, his chances of having trouble would be 68.1 per cent.

PLENTY CAN HAPPEN

A difficulty with these statistics is that they don't yet take into account what happens to those children in a troubled family who inherit only a small amount of the curse. They may grow up to be just eccentric, alcoholic, peculiar, overly shy and shut-in, hard to live with, or always sickly, or unable to hold a job or earn a living.

Also many a person contemplating marriage will say to the expert, "You tell me that the chances are one in four that any children I may have will be defective, but can you tell me whether that child will be the first, second, third or fourth in the series?" If the experts could only say that the defect would not show up in the first three children, the outlook would not be so discouraging.

Unfortunately, as yet there are only a few places in the United States where a person can go to get the expert advice on genetics that he or she needs. In a fine recent article by Dr. Lee R. Dice he lists some of the few available places, such as the Institute of Human Biology, at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, where he and Dr. J. V. Neel and others work. They spend their lives studying the heredity of chronic diseases.

In New York, Dr. Franz Kallmann, at Columbia, has compiled statistics based on thousands of cases. At the University of Chicago, Dr. Herluf H. Strandkov gives much of his time generously to family counseling in regard to heredity. Other leaders in this field are Dr. Laurence H. Snyder, of the University of Oklahoma; Dr. Sheldon C. Reed, director of the Dight Institute of Minnesota; Dr. C. Nash Herndon, of the Bowman Gray School of Medicine, at Winston-Salem in North Carolina; Dr. F. E. Stephens, at the University of Utah; Dr. Clarence P. Oliver, of the University of Texas; Dr. D. C. Rife, in the Ohio State University; Dr. Robert M. Stecher, in Cleveland; Dr. Norman F. Walker, in the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto; Dr. F. Clarke-Fraser, in the Children's Memorial Hospital in Montreal.

LETTERS LITTLE HELP

Unfortunately, these men and women cannot safely advise by mail because often they have to cross-question the applicant in regard to his heredity. Anyone who is concerned about the future of his possible children should consult an expert and be guided by his advice. He should take with him to the conference all the information he can get from his parents and others in regard to the family tendencies toward disease, and obviously he must be absolutely honest.

Actually, the proposed spouse should also go to the doctor with all the information he or she can get about his or her family. The reason for this is that a tendency to disease in a man, when re-enforced by a similar tendency in his wife, can wreck the lives of several of the children.

People who go to such a counselor will find him or her kindly and sympathetic. As Dr. Neel said recently, it hurts him to discourage lovers. But as my old friend and pioneer in this field of medicine, Dr. Wm. Allan, of North Carolina, used to say, it is a horrible thing to go ahead and bring into the world a number of children several of whom are almost certain to be either paralyzed or blind or in some way defective.

JOHNSON ON BCHIS

of five years—from January 1, 1949, to December 31, 1953, as below:

Municipal grants — $4,036,185.29 3.72

Social assistance premiums — 3,359,812.25 3.10

Social assistance premiums — 5,499,924.60 5.07

Provincial grants — 6,986,469.10 6.44

Totals — $19,882,391.24 18.33

In order to get a true picture of the operation of the hospital insurance service those items should be taken out because before the inception of hospital insurance they were paid as a part of the welfare program, and the per diem grants for a long period were paid to the hospitals.

They have nothing to do with the hospital insurance service. This was made quite plain in the budget speech of March 4, 1952. Where does this leave the cost of hospital insurance for the five year period. On Page 17 of Mr. Martin's speech the following figures appear:

Payments to hospitals — $89,717,438.80

Administration costs — 8,846,467.60

Advance balance to hospitals outstanding — 2,788,964.87

$101,352,771.27

Cash balance — 7,087,183.84

Total cost of hospital expenses and administration $108,439,955.11

Less per diem grants and welfare department not applicable to hospital insurance — 19,882,391.24

Cost applicable to hospital insurance — $88,557,563.89

This left a cost to be provided by the hospital insurance plan to meet the obligation for which the citizens of this province paid premiums of $81,470,380.03 for the five-year period since its inception. Now what are the facts as revealed in Mr. Martin's speech:

Premiums collected — $68,791,449.89

Stabilization fund — $2,000,000.00

Subsidy — $17,766,114.00

19,766,114.00

Less cash on hand — $88,557,563.89

7,087,183.84

$81,470,380.03

The average subsidy for hospital insurance for the five-year period is $2,535,762.03 a year. The average cost of the plan for the five-year period is one-fifth of $81,470,380.03—$16,294,076.00.

On Page 28 of the budget speech the payment to hospitals for the period ending March 31, 1953, is given at $21,310,000.00; March 31, 1954, is given as (estimated) $23,770,000.00, up 11 per cent; March 31, 1955, is given as (estimated) $28,700,000.00, up 20 per cent.

The percentage increase from March 31, 1953 to March 31, 1954, is 11 per cent; from March 31, 1954 to March 31, 1955, 20 per cent.

Under the EDC treaty West Germany will raise 500,000 men for the European army. In return, the Bonn conventions will give West Germany near-sovereignty once the whole treaty system has been ratified by all partners.

The Bonn convention now requires the only French ratification. The other two signatories, the United States and Britain, have already ratified it.

The European army treaty still requires French, Italian and Luxembourg ratification. The other EDC parties, the Netherlands and Belgium, have already ratified it.

Boat Rides No Novelty For Gondoliers' Singer

Every rehearsal means a land-and-sea voyage for Jimmy Mead-Robbins, who will be seen next week as the Duke of Plaza Toro in the Gilbert and Sullivan Society's presentation of "The Gondoliers."

Mr. Mead-Robbins lives and work on James Island. Getting to town means a 15-minute boat ride and a 15-mile drive.

Despite this difficulty Mr. Mead-Robbins has been a member of the Gilbert and Sullivan Society since its formation in 1945 and has appeared in all but one of the society's 10 productions staged since then. He has taken a principal role in each one, and his comedy work has won him the unofficial title of "Victoria's Martyr Green."

Like other members of the cast of "The Gondoliers" Mr. Mead-Robbins has been rehearsing since last October.

Rehearsals have been held two and three times a week. The colorful opera will be presented at the Royal Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The theatre box office opens Thursday.

Vesuvius Bay-Crofton Ferry Hits Snag

DUNCAN — Proposed Crofton-Vesuvius Bay ferry service has been threatened by an Ottawa decision against provision of landings at the terminal points of the service.

A vessel, the George S. Pearson, owned by Gulf Island Ferries (1951) Limited, has been ready for two months.

Sums of $90,000 and $60,000 were placed in supplementary estimates, but when estimates reached the House of Commons the two items had been dropped.

According to information from the federal public works department, the estimates were dropped when it was learned that, rather than altering existing structures, the department would have to build one complete new wharf.

Sunday Movie's Shower of Dimes Raises $640 for Solarium Fund

More than 1,200 persons attended a Sunday night show at the Odeon Theatre which launched this year's Shower of Dimes campaign. The Solarium Junior League's fund grossed $640.

Originally it was the league's plan to sell tickets at $1 apiece. Plans had to be changed, however, when the Lord's Day Alliance office in Toronto lodged a protest.

Admission to Sunday night's show was free but inverted umbrellas were placed in the lobby for those who wished to make a contribution. Persons with tickets had their money refunded, but in practically all cases gave back the money as a donation. Some paid nothing, while others contributed nickels and dimes. Staff of the Odeon Theatre donated its time. Health Minister Eric Martin formerly proclaimed the 15th annual Shower of Dimes under way. Robert Cheyne, president of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, acted as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Mary Rawnsley, president of the Solarium Junior League, and Mrs. Shirley Callard, convener of the Shower campaign, spoke briefly.

Rev. J. E. Smith, president of the Victoria Ministerial Association, has clarified the stand of the ministerial body on the Solarium movie. Mr. Smith said that his organization had made no representations in this particular issue but was in strong support of the Lord's Day Alliance. No action had been taken on the Solarium venture because many of the members of the Ministerial Association were out of town.

A letter sent to the Odeon manager on the subject two years ago (and which had been produced as evidence of Ministerial Association opposition) was still valid and expressed the views of his organization, Mr. Smith said.

Kins Win Title

Eilers to Compete in Dominion Hoop Finals

Kins 49, Eilers 47
By RON COULTER

Victoria's youthful Vic-Van-Isle Kins Saturday night won the British Columbia senior women's basketball championship. But the local club will not represent B.C. in the Canadian championships.

Kins spotted four-time Canadian champion Vancouver Eilers a four-point first-quarter lead and then roared from behind to upset the defending champions, 49-47, to capture the best-of-three provincial title series in two-straight games.

Friday night Kins scored in the final seconds of the game to down Eilers, 65-63. They won the George Snider Trophy and the Wilf Cain-Jock Gillette Trophy.

However, Kins will not be given the chance to vie for the Dominion title.

Unable to post the required $680 bond to hold the Canadian championships, here on a short 12-hour notice from the British Columbia Basketball Association, Kins were forced to drop from Dominion competition before the provincial series.

Eilers were nominated to represent B.C. in the finals, and from all reports intend to do so. Team representative Bill Eiler, who accompanied the club to Victoria, said Saturday night that he would be willing to give Kins the chance for the Dominion title if they could raise the money to buy the bond he had earlier posted.

But apparently Eiler team members decided to continue and are scheduled to meet the eastern champions in Vancouver the week-end of April 10.

In a preliminary contest Saturday, Carol Humphries netted 28 points to pace Vancouver Kins into a 56-35 victory over Victoria Eagles in a sudden-death game for the provincial juvenile girls' crown.

FAT MASON STARS
Kins' victory can be attributed to the fact that forward Pat Mason effectively checked Eilers' star Nora McDermott, who hooped 26 points Friday night, to 12 points Saturday.

Miss Mason was top local scorer with 17 points.

Kins' guard Helen Pettigrew scored nine points, while centre Chris Boyd, who turned in another solid performance, added seven.

Shirley Topley was top Vancouver scorer with 13 points and rookie Zoe Robinson hit for eight.

Line-ups follow:
Eilers—Rita Bell, Nora McDermott, 12, Edith McDonald, 6, Peggy Miller, Joan Mitchell, 4, Zoe Robinson, 8, Nora Boudart, 4, Shirley Topley, 13.
Kins—Chris Boyd, 7, Phyllis Cookburn, 10, Shirley Lewis, 14, Helen Pettigrew, 9, Florence Pickering, 2, Beverly Rose, 1, Shirley Williams, 1, Wright, 2, Lela Vestman, 2.

Kitsilano-Rose Baker, 5, Alberta Brinkworth, 3, Barbara Ferguson, 8, Carol Humphries, 28, Jackie Wickens, 9, Pat Young, 3.
Eagles—Gerry Hodge, Shirley Jones, 1, Beverly Kooki, 8, Loretta Mitchell, 13, Marlene Mitchell, 10, Dorothy Nelson, 1, Berna Rogers, 1, Deanna Saxon, 9, Pat Sinclair, 6, Hilare Wells.

Nanaimo curling rinks won three of four major events in the eighth annual Nanaimo Curling Club bonspiel, which concluded at the up-Island centre Sunday.

Only outside winner in the event was Vancouver's E. S. Meir, who shaded the Smiley entry from Nanaimo by one rock to capture the Grand Challenge Cup.

Nanaimo's Don MacRae took the Malaspina Hotel Challenge Cup with a 12-3 victory over A. Hoard of Vancouver in the final.

WEINMEISTER CLASSED AS IMPORT

Grid Ruling Hurts Lions
TORONTO (CP)—Canada's professional football teams, who have more than quadrupled their annual expenditures the last six years in a wild spending spree for imported talent, today embarked on a long-range program aimed at presenting annual financial statements in black.

First effects may be felt this fall.

The cutback, adopted at the Canadian Rugby Union annual meeting here Saturday, was effected by manoeuvring that allowed Big Four and Western Conference teams to

Barons Eliminate Bisons

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Barons won their way into the final round of the American Hockey League's Calder Cup playoffs Sunday night by defeating Buffalo Bisons 5-1. It was the Barons' third straight victory in the best-of-five series.

Trailing by three goals, the Barons rallied on the play of Jack Gordon who shot two goals and assisted on three others. His last goal, unassisted, clinched the victory.

Gordon Pennell, Bison centre, was carried off with a broken leg after a clash into the boards back of the Cleveland cage in the closing seconds of the second period.

Gordon's winning goal, at 3:17 of the last period, came on a face-off near the Bison net. He grabbed the puck and drilled it into the net past Jean Renaud.

TAKE 3-1 LEAD
Bouchard made it 3-1 before the seven-minute mark. But the desperate Bruins, on the sharp shooting of rookie Doug Mohs and captain-Mit Schmidt, pulled into a 3-3 tie, setting the stage for Moore's shot.

Gorge Vale Golf
Miss W. Fletcher and Jack Hall won the Hill Trophy mixed foursome competition at Gorge Vale Golf Club Sunday with a 99-25½-73½ score.

Runners-up were Mrs. D. Keown and Jack Storr with a 90-12-78. Low gross honors went to Shirley Fry and S. Mitchell at Shirley.

B. Wilson and B. Smiley, both of Nanaimo, tied for runner-up honors in the Grand Aggregate event with seven victories each.

and Nanaimo's Art Fuller blanked clubmate B. Wilson 12-0 to cop the Free Press Trophy.

W. Karjala of Nanaimo skipped his rink to a 1-3½ decision over J. Fiss' rink to win the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. Cup, while the Grand Aggregate Cup was taken by Don MacRae who won nine of 10 games played in the spiel.

B. Wilson and B. Smiley, both of Nanaimo, tied for runner-up honors in the Grand Aggregate event with seven victories each.

Delegates were in accord on the new import rulings but trouble brewed when another motion, finally adopted, said that players born in Canada, but resident or trained in the United States, are classified imports for 1954 unless they were registered with the CRU before Oct. 1, 1953. The fuss may blow up into a bitter battle between British Columbia Lions and other WIFU teams.

Coach Annis Stukus and president Don McKenzie of the Lions declared this was aimed directly at their club and Canadian-born Arnie Weinmeister, signed by the Lions July 29, 1953, but who has not been registered with the CRU.

Stukus said in an interview later that the CRU "ganged up" on the Lions. Weinmeister was born at Rhein, Sask., and left Canada when only two Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs realize now that the lesser lights are the guys who can kill you.

The Bruins and Leafs have effectively throttled the aces of Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens in the current Stanley Cup semi-final series but the penalty-killers and defensive players are scoring the big goals. Take the week-end, for instance:

At Toronto Saturday night, Tony Leswick, the pesky winger with the Wings who had scored only six goals in the 70-game National Hockey League schedule, broke up a 1-1 third period tie to send the Wings ahead 2-1 in the series. Wings won the game 3-1.

At Boston Sunday night, big Butch Bouchard, Canadiens' solidly built defensive mainstay, scored two goals as Canadiens edged the Bruins 4-3 to take a three-game lead in their semi-final. Butch had scored only one goal during the season—at Montreal against the Bruins.

The clubs got back into action Tuesday night at Boston and Toronto. Coach Dick Irvin and managing director Frank Selke of Canadiens weren't too optimistic they could wrap up the series in four straight. "That's a pretty hard trick to accomplish," Irvin said Sunday night's game.

MOORE HERO
Although Bouchard's scoring rash was a big factor in the Montreal victory, the huzzahs went to Dickie Moore, the leading scorer in the semi-final brackets, who fired a looping 20-foot shot past goalkeeper Jim Henry with only 90 seconds remaining to win the game.

After a scoreless first period Bouchard got his first goal 16 seconds after the start of the second on a 50-foot blast. Cal Gardner tied it in just 26 seconds and Bernie Geoffrion put Canadiens ahead 2-1 at 2:15.

Bouchard made it 3-1 before the seven-minute mark. But the desperate Bruins, on the sharp shooting of rookie Doug Mohs and captain-Mit Schmidt, pulled into a 3-3 tie, setting the stage for Moore's shot.

Arsenal Declines Tour
LONDON (AP)—Arsenal, last year's English League Division I soccer champions, Saturday turned down a Soviet invitation to play two matches in Moscow during August, "because our players cannot be in full training at that time."

The meeting turned down a proposal for a two-game Grey Cup final because it felt it would "kill" the spectacle. It established a maximum roster of 45 for all CRU affiliated teams and accepted an invitation from the WIFU to play the semifinal Nov. 20 between the Ontario Rugby Football Union and WIFU champions on the home grounds of the WIFU team.

Five youthful Victoria fivepin trundlers Saturday night took the first step toward capturing the British Columbia junior fivepin championship.

Rolling under the name of Victoria Junior Kingpins, the young aces racked up a 277-pin lead in the first five games of a 10-game, home-and-home series for the provincial crown. Second half of the series will be played in Vancouver at a future date.

Members of the local team rolling against Vancouver Commodore All-Stars were Fred Mair, Dave Doolittle, Bob McLeod, Ken Smith, Jerry Devine and Roy Morberg.

Victoria hit for singletons of 1,029, 1,057, 1,093, 972 and 1,256

Stamps Take Series Lead In Hard-Hitting Contest

Calgary 6, Victoria 1
(Calgary Leads Best-of-Seven Series, 2-1)

By BILL WALKER

Something resumes tonight at Memorial Arena. But it is doubtful if even the competing teams, Calgary Stampede and Victoria Cougars know what that something is going to be.

These two clubs met Saturday in what was billed as the third game of their Western Hockey League quarter-final series. Calgary won the contest, 6-1, to take a two-to-one lead in games-over Cougars.

The only trouble was that nobody was quite sure just what was at stake—skulls or goals? It certainly wasn't hockey in its true concept and both clubs were to blame for the battle of attrition that took place. The fans (not all of them) were partly at fault too. Especially those behind the Calgary bench. And it's fortunate that a few craniums weren't creased in the incidents that resulted between the Stamps and those fans.

Luckily there was only one injury on the ice and that was not too serious, although it has cost the Cougars the services of centre Reg Abbott.

Tripped by George Pargeter of the Stamps on what was a dangerous scoring play for the

Another Cougar on the Shelf

Already hard hit by injuries, the Victoria Cougars lost still another player Saturday night in the third game of the best-of-seven quarter-final series with Calgary Stampede. As well as bowing to Calgary, 6-1, Cougars lost Reg Abbott when he was checked into the Calgary goal by George Pargeter. Abbott's injury, a severe charley-horse in his thigh, is expected to keep him out of the rest of the series. Here Abbott lies sprawled on the ice, while Calgary goalie Bill Brennan comes to his aid. ## Vets Win Handily, Take Soccer Honors

ANAF Veterans captured the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association first-division local knockout Whittaker Cup Sunday by trouncing Salt Spring Island, 6-1.

Bill Abbott netted a hat trick for the winners, while Thorn wrote scored twice and McCall scored Salt Spring's only marker.

In a junior division league contest, Combine Juniors blanked Tillicum Athletic Club, 6-0. Dave Harrison, Mark Carey and Fred Curtis each scored twice for the winners, who have won the league title and T. Eaton Trophy.

Two exhibition games were played Sunday, Eagles edging Canadian Scottish, 2-1, and Sidney Sports Club blanking Mac's, 3-0.

Saturday, a second half goal by Dave Pollard gave Eagles a 1-0 victory over Gorge Way and the fourth-division New Method Cup.

Shepherd's Dairy outclassed Heaney's, 10-0, in fifth division semifinal competition for the Lower Island championship. Pat Mulcahy scored four goals, while Gary Wood and Robby Faulds each scored twice and Jim Peters and Ken Gardner added singletons.

Dairymen are now scheduled to meet Eagles in the finals. Eagles and Combines played to a scoreless draw in their semi-final game, Eagles taking the decision with a margin of one corner kick in overtime.

Eagles and Black and White Taxi tied 1-1 in a third division league game. Ron Hope scored a second-half goal for Eagles, Lance Rutherford evened the count for Black and White Taxi. Eagles, winners of the first and second halves, have been awarded the J. Edgewood Cup as league champions.

MUNN SECOND IN PIN MEET

VANCOUVER (CP)—Walter Lewis of Vancouver captured the British Columbia 10-pin bowling championship here Saturday night rolling up a 30-game score of 5,410.

The Cougars defense plainly showed the effects of having been forced to play short-handed for the past two weeks and again tonight will be at their recent strength of three men—Lowe, Walt Clune and Tony Schneider.

The club is still below par physically, especially with Abbott sidelined. However, Kilburn's ankle has mended fully while Lowe and Schneider's ill's are less severe.

The Cougars had a light skating drill Sunday with Lowe and Clune being excused duty. Neither coach would go limb grawling Saturday night.

Flyers Lead Quakers

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Flyers whipped Saskatoon Quakers 9-5 Saturday night to take a 2-1 lead in games in their best-of-seven Western Hockey League quarter-final series here.

The Flyers, who won the first game 2-0 and were blanked 4-0 last Thursday, led 2-1 at the end of the first period and 5-3 at the end of the second.

Canucks Trim Royals

Vancouver 6, Westminster 1. NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—The injury-ridden Vancouver Canucks trimmed New Westminster Royals 6-1 Saturday night to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-nine Western Hockey League semi-final series here.

The Canucks dressed five injured players for the game, but had little trouble in subduing the Royals. They led 2-1 at the end of the first period and 5-1 at the end of the second.

Fourth game in the series will be played here tonight.

Jimmy Anderson and Marcel Bonin sparked the winners with two goals apiece. Enio Scisizzi, Hugh Coffin, Ray Hannigan, Len Haley and Don Poile scored single goals for the defending league champions.

Quaker marksmen were Jackie McLeod, Jim Ross, Ray Manson, Howie Milford and Vic Lynn.

Servants Fall Before Heaneys

Heaney's 4, Civil Service 0

By TONY BRISTOWE

A Civil Service side that was missing the two MacMillans and Bob Allen was given a 4-0 drubbing by Heaney's at Lower Beacon Hill Sunday.

It might have been the absence of these players or just end-of-season stiffness, but Servants looked mightily at sea, and Heaneys had the game increasing all their own way as the afternoon wore on.

This in itself was a contradiction, for to start with Heaneys were scarcely ever in Servants' half, practically the sole exception being when Ron Pearce and Frank Grealey broke away for the latter to score the only goal before the interval.

Although the sun was shining, an icy wind blowing upfield kept the few spectators huddled under shelter, and spurts of dust off the pitch added to the players' discomfort. Despite this, Servants started as if they intended to go places in a hurry, and Heaneys' goalkeeper Vally Thorne was given plenty to do.

Even so, Heaneys' defense held firm, Servants' attack lacked the necessary bite, and nothing came of their aggressiveness. So it was that, territorially at least, Heaneys' first goal, scored after 36 minutes, was against the run of the play, and Pearce broke away down the left wing, and Grealey managed to bustle the ball past deputy goalie Jack McIntyre.

After the change of ends,

Heaneys had the advantage of the wind, and used it to keep the ball up the field. After eight minutes a loose ball came to centre-forward George Murphy and he made no mistake. Seven minutes later Mel Sellars scrambled the ball in again after a goal-mouth scrimmage, and four minutes from full time Pearce hooked in a hard shot from a corner.

Servants put on the pressure towards the end, but a reluctance to shoot stopped them from ever looking dangerous.

For Heaneys, Stan Wiseman completely dominated play in the centre, and the inside, Sellars and Grealey, worked hard.

Referee Art Shaw is to be congratulated for calling a taut and competent game.

REMAINING GAMES

There is now one league game (Esquimalt vs. Civil Service), outstanding. Also still to be played are the semifinal and final of the Jackson Cup, and the final of the McGavin Cup, between Civil Service and Canadian Scottish. These will complete the season's Victoria and District Association activities.

Dockers Whip Wests

At Heywood Avenue Park Sunday before a good-sized crowd, Esquimalt scored four times in the second half to trounce Victoria West, 6-3.

Both teams battled on even terms through the first half before the Dockers took over in the second half and drew away from Wests.

Esquimalt's Ed Barnes gave the winners an early lead but George Brown evened the count for Wests. Outside left Alex

ROYALS FILE PROTEST IN QHL SERIES

An emergency meeting of the Quebec Hockey League executives will be held tonight to rule on a protest by the Montreal Royals over the use of Sherbrooke defenseman, Joe Levandoski.

Montreal and the Sherbrooke Saints are tied in their best-of-seven quarter-final playoffs 2-2 after week-end games.

The Royals say Levandoski is ineligible to play and should be the league ruling favor the Royals, they will take a commanding series lead of three games to one. Levandoski was used in one game, the second of the series which Sherbrooke won, 8-3.

Sunday, Dick Gamble led Montreal to 4-2 victory with two goals to tie up the series.

The Chaboultin Saguenays won their first game of their best-of-nine semifinal series with the Quebec Aces 2-1.

The Ottawa Senators defeated the Valleyfield Braves 5-1 Sunday and that best-of-seven quarter-finals is now tied 2-2.

Derry Simpson tied the score at 1-1 before the first half concluded when his shot from close in found the corner.

John Weldon put Motormen one up with a booming shot from 14 yards out after three minutes of play had elapsed in the second half. Ernie Eastlake moved in close to put the ball past a well-beaten Wright to give Wood Motors a 3-1 lead.

Rookie Wright cut the deficit before Weldon concluded scoring with his second goal of the game.

Defending champion JBAA will carry a three-point lead into the second game of a two-game, total-point series for the city rugby championship and accompanying Barnard Cup this Saturday.

The defending titlist last Saturday defeated Oak Bay Wanderers, 6-3, on the strength of a second-half try scored by Frank Gower to establish the three-point lead.

Winner of the series is scheduled to meet Vancouver Marathons for the British Columbia championship and Rounsfell Cup.

In an exhibition midget contest last Saturday, Glenlyon School and Oak Bay Wanderers failed to hit the scoresheet as they battled to a scoreless deadlock in a well-played game.

JBAA, who holds three victories and one tie in five games against Wanderers this season, took the lead on a penalty goal kicked by Gary Pinn late in the first half.

Lorne MacDonald tied the count early in the second canto to set the stage for Gower's winning try.

Clippers Edge Merchants

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Nanaimo Clippers moved into the lead of the torrid Commercial Hockey League playoffs Saturday night edging Victoria Merchants 6-5 in the fifth game of the final series.

Clippers now lead the best-of-seven series 3-2 in games and get a chance to take the title, held last year by Merchants, when the two clubs meet in the sixth game in Victoria Wednesday.

Splitting four first-period goals, the Nanaimo sextette skated to a commanding lead late in the second frame with Angie Defelice firing in the winner at 12:20 of the third after Ab Wiebe had put the Clippers on even terms at 5:5 at 10:48.

There was little to choose between the two clubs and never more than a goal separated them as each battled right down to the wire for the important victory.

Ab Wiebe was a standout for the Clippers scoring once and picking off two assists. As in the previous games, it was the line of Bernie Strongman, Toby Brown and Joe Evans who carried the major load. Brown sniped two goals while Evans assisted on two of the losers' markers.

Playing coach Ed Shamlock counted twice for Clippers as did his running mate Ed Carr.

SHE ALMOST BROUGHT THE HOUSE DOWN

One Lesson, and the Stairway Wasn't There Any More

CHICAGO (UP)—A south side neighborhood was still trying to recover today from Arlene Goerner's driving lesson. Arlene, 16, took the wheel with her 21-year-old brother, Howard, beside her to tell her what to do. Here's what happened:

She swerved to avoid a dog in an alley and rammed a station wagon.

The station wagon rolled into a row of garbage cans.

The garbage cans smashed into a house's back stairway. The stairway collapsed.

Arthur Mankin, 33, having a meal with his wife on the second floor of the house, muttered "Something must have happened to our station wagon" and stepped out to have a look.

Meanwhile, Arlene hid herself off to attend classes at Chicago Vocational School. She left brother Howard to explain things.

Police said Howard was "abusive" in his explaining and arrested him.

Arlene's mother, Mrs. George Goerner, went to the Hyde Park police station to bail out Howard.

On her way out, Sgt. Harold Murphy stopped her.

"Here are two tickets for your daughter," he said. "One for negligent driving, the other for having no driver's license."

SHEPHERD DOG STANDS GUARD OVER BODY FOR 15 WEEKS

BAMFORD, Eng. (AP)—Fifteen weeks ago Joseph Tagg, 86, disappeared while tending his sheep. Missing with him was his 12-year-old collie, "Tip."

Sunday two shepherds tending flocks in the area came across them. Tagg was dead. Tip, weak and hungry but still alive, lay near the body.

For 15 weeks the faithful collie had defied blizzards in the raw rolling moorlands and snow drifts on a Derbyshire peak to stand guard.

The story said "the navy is convinced that the aircraft carrier has become the backbone of the fighting fleet."

Missing Ontario Tars Hunted in Australia

CANBERRA (Reuters)—The Royal Australian Navy has asked "civilian authorities" to help find nine missing Canadian sailors left behind when the Canadian cruiser Ontario sailed for home March 19, a spokesman for the Canadian high commissioner's office here said today.

Two other missing members of the Ontario's crew gave themselves up a few days after the cruiser left and now are in Australian Navy custody, the spokesman said. The Ontario sailed from Brisbane after attending sesquicentennial celebrations at Tasmania.

John W. Pegg Fined $50 for Second Offence

John W. Pegg, Belmont Park, was fined $50 on a second charge of taking a car without the owner's consent.

Magistrate H. C. Hall said he was taking into consideration the fact that Pegg is a father of four, and if he were not released to his ship before it sails Monday he would likely be discharged from the navy.

He stipulated that Pegg would be required to report monthly to the city probation officer unless his ship was at sea.

Pegg was held for taking a car from a Wharf Street car lot a week ago. A constable saw him in the car which bore 1953 license tabs. When he checked Pegg, the sailor ran and managed to escape in spite of two shots fired by the officer.

He was arrested at HMCS Naden later the same day.

He paid $75 for a similar incident five days previously.

MCKINLEY PARK, Alaska (AP)—The first atomic power plant in Alaska may be constructed in the Anchorage area by the Chugach Electric Association, all-Alaska Chamber of Commerce members were told today.

Marlin Stewart, general manager of the power co-operative, said in a talk that "at this very moment, engineers of Chugach Electric Association are studying various proposals which could lead to establishment of Alaska's first atomic power plant in the greater Anchorage area."

5 Million Daffodils Ready

Arrangements have been completed to ship nearly 5,000,000 daffodils, one of the largest crops in years, by air-cargo to Eastern Canada next month.

Starting April 12, TCA North Stars will begin shipping the golden blooms from Patricia Bay to Calgary. From there the flowers will be transferred to Bristol freighters and flown to eastern points. Shipments will continue until Easter.

A large number of flowers are destined for Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal, growers said. This year's entire crop has been sold.

G. A. Vantreight, Jr., Gordon Head daffodil grower, said the crop probably will be at its peak just in time for Easter. The current cold spell, he said, was retarding the flowers from blooming too early which is the chief concern of growers this year.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

For some reason or other, the operators of The Times' Saturday feature "What's your opinion?" have never come up to me and asked "what's your opinion?"

This may be because they feel one picture of me in the paper is already too much.

However, I wish they could have relented on Saturday, and asked my opinion of their question of the day, viz., do you think the dress of Victoria males is too drab and should be more comfortable?

If I had been asked this question, my answer would have been:

And how!

(This remark dates me, but I have long since given up any pretense to youth).

By and large Victoria men dress just about as drably as the law will allow, and certainly would place high on any list of duller dressed men.

Even the younger set, usually a tower of strength in the movement toward sartorial brilliance, content themselves with faded blue jeans (they are made that way on purpose) for school wear, and ominously black peg-tops or is it peg-bottoms for more formal occasions.

Spring is already here, but have you yet seen a Victoria male suitably dressed to mark the occasion?

I am thinking of a tasty ensemble something along these lines:

Canary yellow trousers with a contrasting shirt of shiny mallard-head blue. For the conservative dresser, a casual jacket of rust-brown, though the more daring could well choose something in shocking pink. Or even that charming lipstick shade, Pink Plumb Beautiful.

In an ensemble of that nature, a man would be a thing of beauty, a bright spot in the drab routine of our everyday life.

You may have noticed I haven't mentioned a necktie. At the present time, the necktie is man's only safe outlet for his hidden desire to rival the male bird in colorful plumage.

If a man lets himself go in the matter of shirts, slacks, and jackets, there is no need for a tie at all.

The only excuse for a restrictive band around the uncomfortable neck of the male animal is to display color.

Once we get color into the rest of our clothes, we can dispense with the tie entirely, and breathe comfortably.

Men of Victoria—arise! Let imagination run riot, break off the shackles of dull convention. Dress in brilliant garments.

(And let me know how you make out).

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

A blast from a shotgun ended the career of a henhouse robber in Esquimalt Saturday afternoon. A posse of citizens and police located the culprit sleeping in a tree behind Esquimalt Municipal Hall. He refused to come down. A hastily sent-for scattergun brought him to earth and the trail of crime of a 15-pound coon was ended.

A Victoria woman, Mrs. Ellen Westernman, 233 Michigan St., has won $1,000 in a nationwide radio contest.

Mrs. Westernman's entry was chosen above names from all across Canada, for the top prize in the Purdy Foods "Going Places" contest.

Asked how she felt about the prize, Mrs. Westernman replied: "I haven't given it much thought. I've been too busy to get excited about it, and I haven't even figured out what I'm going to do with the money."

The "Going Places" program is broadcast locally over station CKDA.

Masonic Temple Association of Victoria today denied that the association was planning to spend $150,000 on remodeling of its building at Douglas and Fisgard Streets.

According to S. L. Wilson, secretary-treasurer, the association is considering several plans to improve accommodation for the Masonic lodges here, but that all are in the "investigating" stage, and a story in the Times Saturday that tenders will be called soon was "premature."

Youthful Entertainers Thrill Rotarians Meeting Here

Youth was front and centre on the stage of Royal Theatre Sunday night as the opening ceremonies for the three-day convention of District 151, Rotary International, were held. Here the Rotary Girls' choir entertains. Also featured was the Victoria club's boys' choir and the Victoria Girls' Drill Team presented a "Pageant of Flags." Conference continues today and Tuesday. (Times Photo.)

Sir Ernest to Conduct Victoria Symphony

Sir Ernest MacMillan, Canada's foremost musician and symphony conductor, will make an appearance here with Victoria Symphony Orchestra in June.

Details of the visit were expected to be announced tonight at the final concert of the Victoria orchestra by Hans Gruber, conductor.

Visit of Sir Ernest is considered both a fitting conclusion to the orchestra's most successful season to date, and prelude to the expected series of summer concerts at Butchart's Gardens.

It will mean resumption of an old friendship, since Mr. Gruber studied under Sir Ernest in Toronto.

Since that time Mr. Gruber has worked for constant improvement of the Victoria orchestra, and this year, through additional personnel and technique on the part of musicians, brought it to its highest level of artistry.

Highlights of a banner season were the recording of a concert for presentation over the CBC national radio network, and appearance of Victoria's Robin Wood, internationally-known pianist, with the orchestra as guest artist.

Tonight's concert will be the eighth and last in the winter series.

Sir Ernest, who is regular conductor of the Toronto Symphony, has made many successful tours, and has appeared as guest conductor of most of the outstanding orchestras of Canada and the United States.

He was born in Mimico, trained in Great Britain, and holds practically every honor that the musical world can bestow. He was principal of the Toronto Conservatory of Music from 1926 to 1942, is a composer, and is known as an accomplished concert organizer.

Chairman of the opening business session was J. Len Hobbs, past-president of Victoria Rotary Club. District Governor W. Bruce Gordon, Courtenay, reported a "uniformly healthy" condition in the 63 clubs of District 151.

Average attendance at all clubs in the past year has jumped from 75 per cent to 89 per cent, he said, with several clubs recording 100 per cent attendance. Opening ceremonies for the

Woman Who Said Court Corrupt Makes Apology

Mrs. Florence Haigh, 1586 Rockland, apologized in city police court today for an outburst last week in which she charged the court with being corrupt.

She had been cited for contempt by Magistrate Henry Hall and was remanded to today.

Her apology was made through counsel, J. A. Byers, and the contempt of court action was dropped.

Mrs. Haigh, wife of city junkman and mayoralty candidate Harry Haigh, was remanded to Thursday for trial on two traffic charges.

Freer Fined $100 On Betting Charge

A fine of $100 was imposed by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court on Jack Freer, who pleaded guilty today to keeping a gaming house.

Police testified that they had raided a home at 2010 Fernwood on Saturday and had found the accused seated at a desk which was covered with papers and records of a betting establishment.

Over-Centralization Complaint Worries Rotary International

Flaws in Rotary Must Be Corrected District 151 Conference Warned

Conflict between some member clubs and Rotary International Headquarters at Chicago was discussed in Victoria today by Herbert E. Carrier, Saskatoon.

Mr. Carrier, a director of Rotary International and member of the executive committee of the board of directors, told the opening business session of the District 151 Conference in Royal Theatre of complaints against "too much centralization of authority" in the board of directors.

"A number of clubs formed a 'grass roots' organization," he said, "held their own convention, and drew up a series of complaints and suggestions."

"Rotary International cannot gloss over these complaints, and did not attempt to do so. It is a serious matter."

Mr. Carrier said if there are flaws they must be corrected. He gave it as his opinion that some clubs have a "tendency to go on the momentum of past years."

The cause lies, he believes, in the "indifference with which we have treated Rotary material, resolutions, and information."

ROTARY NEGLECTED

"I am concerned about so many Rotary programs which have nothing to do with Rotary," he said. "We bring in outside speakers and neglect Rotary. If individual members are not informed, how can Rotary International operate?"

He urged close study of resolutions to be presented to the annual Rotary convention in Seattle this year.

The board of directors has set up an international committee to study relationships between member clubs and the international board, and thousands of suggestions have been considered, Mr. Carrier reported.

Chairman of the opening business session was J. Len Hobbs, past-president of Victoria Rotary Club. District Governor W. Bruce Gordon, Courtenay, reported a "uniformly healthy" condition in the 63 clubs of District 151.

Average attendance at all clubs in the past year has jumped from 75 per cent to 89 per cent, he said, with several clubs recording 100 per cent attendance. Opening ceremonies for the three-day conference held in the Royal Sunday night, when Very Rev. N. R. Burke, dean and rector of Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, was principal speaker.

SINCERITY NEEDED

"There is a very great need for sincerity in this world today," he said.

The Dean stressed the necessity for people to be themselves, and emphasized the importance played by service clubs such as Rotary in helping citizens to become better Christians.

Keeping his audience on its toes with his dry wit and profound wisdom, the Dean used the Biblical tale of David and Goliath to show how Rotary helps the "little" man.

"The Rotary International," he stated, "has ample opportunity for aiding man, for building up his reserves of knowledge, and for increasing his spiritual resource."

The assembly was opened with a prayer read by Rev. William Buckingham of Sidney, and Rotarians were welcomed by Victoria club president John Gough. Seattle Rotary president Cassius E. Gates replied to the welcome on behalf of visiting clubs.

Visiting Rotarians were entertained at the meeting by both the boys' and girls' choirs of the Victoria Rotary Club.

Boy soprano John Allen brought a storm of applause for his rendition of "Jerusalem," and an impressive part of the evening was a "Pageant of Flags," performed by the Victoria Girls' Drill Team.

A large rock was thrown through a four-by-five foot plate glass window in the home of Mrs. W. A. McKenzie, 1442 Rockland at about 10 p.m. Sunday. Police searched the area without results.

here, to compete in the "Miss PNE" competition. If she wins there, Jaycees guarantee to raise funds to send her to Toronto to enter the "Miss CNE" competition.

Girls aged 17 to 21 years are eligible to compete here. Winner will be chosen by popular ballot and by a panel of prominent judges.

Mrs. Nona Damaske has been chosen to instruct the girls for their public appearance, and to act as champion.

Laurie Blake is chairman of the Jaycees committee in charge of the contest.

12 Injured In Crashes; 5 Arrested

14 Days for Impaired Driver; One Fined $250, Three Remanded

Twelve persons were injured and five drivers were arrested, charged with driving while impaired by alcohol, over the week-end in the worst flurry of traffic mishaps in Greater Victoria this year.

None of the injuries were serious. One of the drivers today was sentenced to 14 days in jail, without the option of a fine.

The first mishap occurred at noon Saturday when a head-first dive from the right front door of a moving car resulted in face and leg abrasions for two-year-old Sharon Smith, 147 Island Highway. The little girl tumbled from a car being driven by her mother on Gorge Road. Police rushed her to St. Joseph's.

A motorcycle accident at Colwood Saturday night sent Mrs. Mildred Ryder, 23, 754 Kings, to hospital. She suffered leg bruises and lacerations when crushed by another motorbike.

MALAHAT MISHAP

Also from Colwood RCMP came a report of a car turning over at Suicide Corner on the Malahat. It was driven by Hugh Blair Sands, 1224 Richardson. An unnamed passenger received a slight head cut.

Ronald Philip Chamberlain, 326 Vancouver, and Arthur Burnham, 22, 1355 Holland, were taken to St. Joseph's hospital for treatment at about 8 p.m. Saturday. Chamberlain had a slight head cut and Burnham had nose and hand cuts.

Police said Chamberlain's car struck the parked car of Herbert S. Wetherill, 1133 Fort. That address. Damage was $1,000 to both cars.

HEAD-ON CRASH

At 1:10 a.m. Sunday, Wilhelm Hatting, 236 Crease, allegedly struck an oncoming car head-on at Hillside and Fifth. Driver of the other car was James Rymer, 141 Gladstone. Blanche Rymer was taken to Jubilee Hospital with a possible fractured knee.

Hatting was also treated at Jubilee for a cut to his nose.

Hatting pleaded guilty to an impaired charge before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today and was fined $250 by Magistrate H. C. Hall. He has a choice of 12 days.

A woman naval rating, Miss Grace Salowin, was rushed to Naden Hospital for treatment to a deep cut in her right cheek and chin following an accident on Esquimalt Road at 2 a.m. Sunday.

16 STITCHES

Driver of the car, Hector E. Renton, 760 Esquimalt Road, was rushed to Jubilee where 16 stitches were required to close a cut near his eye.

Police said his car had been against George Bailey resulted in a $35 fine. Bailey is alleged to have driven from a sidewalk into a passing car.

Failing to give right-of-way to oncoming traffic cost Pauline E. Matthews, Colwood, $15 and $5.50 costs and Ronald R. Reding $10 for driving through a stop sign.

Stanley William Bligh was fined $5 for failing to have a chauffeur's license while driving a commercial vehicle.

Highway Truck Overloading Brings Fines Up to $35

Seven truck drivers paid $10 to $15 and costs for driving overloaded trucks through Colwood when they appeared before A. I. Thomas at RCMP court Saturday.

Heaviest fine, $35, was paid by a trucker who had a load 7,000 pounds over the allowed weight.

A careless driving charge against George Bailey resulted in a $35 fine. Bailey is alleged to have driven from a sidewalk into a passing car.

Failing to give right-of-way to oncoming traffic cost Pauline E. Matthews, Colwood, $15 and $5.50 costs and Ronald R. Reding $10 for driving through a stop sign.

Q—Will you tell me in what district of Canada the most temperate all-year climate is found? H.J.C.

The records on this part of the Island stretch back to the early days of the Hudson's Bay Company, when an employee of that firm first unofficially recorded weather conditions.

Q—Is Massey Hall, famous scene of concerts in Toronto, named after the Massey family of which the present Governor-General of Canada is a member?—H.W.L.

He made large gifts to Victoria College, the Toronto General Hospital, Massey Hall, the Toronto Art Gallery and many other objects. ## Barrs Recover Mrs. Dobeson's $500 Bail Money

An application requesting the return of a $500 bail to Capt. James Barr and Mrs. Barr, which was exonerated by the Crown last week when Mrs. Alice May Dobeson failed to appear on time for her trial on Thursday, was granted by Mr. Norman Whittaker today.

Robert A. Wootton, counsel for the Barrs, told His Lordship his clients had no idea that Mrs. Dobeson, who was tried and convicted on a charge of smashing a government window, would be late for her trial.

Mrs. Dobeson arrived a half an hour late at the courthouse after the panel jury had been dismissed by Mr. Justice Whittaker until the afternoon. The bail, put up for the accused by the Barrs, was ordered exonerated by His Lordship.

Mr. Wootton said Mr. and Mrs. James Barr had been assured by Mrs. Dobeson a few days before the trial that she would be at the courthouse for her case.

Seagoing Bride and Groom

This bride and groom will be all at sea for at least two years, but Capt. Argyris Kavadias feels his new first mate will keep him on course at the correct speed. Capt. and Mrs. Kavadias were married in Vancouver earlier this month, and their ship, the Liberian-Greek freighter Ss. Georgios, is loading for sea at Ogden Point today. They met when the bride was foreign exchange teller in Bank of Montreal, Vancouver, and their business acquaintance ripened into something more than friendship. The skipper telephoned long distance from Chemainus to pop the question, got a speedy reply. Georgios will tramp the sea lanes of the world, but after two years, Mrs. Kavadias hopes to go ashore and set up housekeeping in Vancouver. (Times Photo by Strickland.)

English Silver Tea Balls
Coming Back Into Fashion

By PENNY SAVER

Talk about revivals! Couple of days ago I told you about the old-fashioned tennis sets being brought back under the guise of "television sets" well, now it's English tea balls they're trying to bring back!

Ever seen one? It's a small silver ball which opens so that tea may be placed inside, and there are tiny holes all over it to let the water into the tea... quite ingenious!

To the ball is attached a silver chain which has a small hook on the end. You must have one of these teapots with a hole in the lid so you can bring the chain up through it and secure the end with the hook. Then, when you are in a hurry for your tea and it isn't steeping quickly enough, just take the end of the chain and with it move the tea ball up and down to hurry the process along.

One local jewelry store has quite a display of the tea balls. Silver-coated they are, and priced at $1.

If you've never used a plastic sponge, you owe it to yourself to try one. They are terrific. Soft and pliable when wet, they do anything an ordinary sponge can do, but they are one up. Dirt leaves a plastic sponge in a jiffy when you rinse it with water after finishing the cleaning. Plastic sponges don't stain and become discolored as others do. You can buy them in bright colors, in prices ranging from 19 cents to 85 cents.

Have you noticed how bunches of spring flowers have come down in price lately? That's because daffodils and the like are blooming in gardens everywhere, of course. But just the same, there are lots of people who don't have gardens, and for their sales I want to say that I saw some glorious bunches of daffys selling for 25 cents today. There were a complete dozen in each and every bunch. Bunches of tulips... each containing six blooms... are selling at 39 cents, which is also quite reasonable.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Fight Facial Lines With Happiness, Health, Care

Many women write to ask what to do about the lines from the nose to the mouth. One recent letter says that when the writer smiles, the lines disappear but very reasonably comments that she cannot go about smiling all of the time or people would think that she is a bit simple minded.

Well, smile as much as you can because you will be happier if you do and smiling is very fine medicine for what ails you.

physically or emotionally. There is another reason for smiling, or at least being relaxed as much of the time as possible.

When you are tense there is tension in the muscles of your face and this pulls the entire facial contour downward. This is aging and speeds the appearance of lines and droops.

Other causes are: lessening of the fatty deposits beneath the skin, muscle laxness, decreased tone of the tissues and drying of the skin.

So what are the remedies? Here they are: facial exercises, good health habits, a happy mental attitude, daily lubrication and a vital diet. The use of a beauty angle also seems to be an aid. This is a board on which you lie with your feet at the high end and your head at the lower end of the board. This stimulates circulation in the face.

The way you apply your cold cream also has an effect. Do not massage except along the lines, using a rotary motion after applying cream or oil. Pat the cream in gently. If you massage vigorously, you may stretch the skin and speed the loss of fat under it and break down the tissues.

Lubrication should always be used before doing facial exercises. Many women have written me about how much these exercises improved their appearances.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 9, "Facial Exercises," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

When you have a small amount of cooked ham on hand use it in this tasty salad. Dice the ham and mix with ripe olive chunks, diced hard-cooked eggs, thinly sliced celery and slivered almonds. Dress with a very thin mayonnaise and serve in lettuce cups.

Miniature walnut and raisin-cheese tarts are perfect to serve with afternoon tea. Make the tarts small and dainty and serve them with a puff of whipped cream and a walnut half on top.

One of the safest ways to store woolen scarves, gloves and sweaters is to put them in jars with moth repellent and seal the jars tight.

AS WE LIVE

Woman Baby-Sits for Spoiled Grandchildren

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When young parents live with the family, they are tempted to leave too much baby-sitting to their parents while they go out to have a good time. A grandmother writes:

(Q) "My son-in-law and daughter, who live with me, seem to think I should baby-sit every week-end while they go out to have fun with their friends. The children are two and four years old, and very badly spoiled. If I try to punish them, my daughter interferes and says I am old-fashioned. Result—when the parents are out of the house, the children run me ragged. I am exhausted from lack of sleep and nervous strain. I want my daughter to have some fun while she is young, but it seems that I am the one who pays for it."

(A) It is natural that your daughter would want you to baby-sit occasionally so that she and her husband can go out. That seems to be one of the chief roles of today's grandmothers.

However, expecting you to sit with spoiled brats is another matter. The children are still too young to understand exactly what it means to obey one person when they have been permitted to do much as they please with another. Therefore, you really cannot blame the children if they "cut up" when you are taking care of them.

It is the parents you should blame. Tell your daughter and son-in-law that you want them to have a good time; that you are perfectly willing to stay with the children so that they can go out, but that you, in turn, expect them to discipline their children reasonably.

If they find that you will no longer be a baby-sitter for them unless they do something to curb their children's behavior, that may give them the necessary incentive to take action. If it does, you will have done the best thing you could do for your grandchildren.

Dr. Hurlock is the author of a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15 cents in coin with a stamped, self-addressed envelope, to this newspaper.

UN Work Gains Little Publicity But World Watches

MONTREAL (CP) — One of Canada's leading women delegates to the United Nations said Sunday some of the UN's best work "never makes the news" because political differences "are better headlines." "The people in remote areas of Iraq, Iran, India and Ecuador aren't interested in the fights in the United Nations Assembly," Mrs. Adelaide Sinclair said. "They are impressed when they see medical and food supplies arriving in UN boxes. They know then whatever UN is or does, it must be a good thing because it helps them." Mrs. Sinclair, executive assistant to the federal deputy minister of health and welfare, and Canada's delegate to the United Nations international children's emergency fund, said technical assistance programs and children's aid are the most important tasks tackled by the world assembly.

'Hot Flashes' Stopped or strikingly relieved in tests by doctors

You may be suffering needlessly from "hot flashes" and irritability, restless feelings of "change of life." In doctors' tests, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Tablets brought relief from such functionally-caused suffering in literally case after case. Complete or striking relief. Try modern-acting Pinkham Tablets. Both Pinkham's Compound and Tablets are modern in action! But, thousands of women are changing to new, improved Tablets (with added iron). They're easy to carry and take, and give grand relief. Get a bottle today. Get relief from these distressing, nervous, "out of sorts" feelings of "change of life." (Splendid, too, for functional pain of monthly menstrual periods!) It acts through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve distress of those useful "heat waves!"

2 Years in Pen For Emile Calve; 17-Year Record

A plea for clemency from a man with a criminal record dating back to 1937 failed to move Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker in Assize Court today.

A sentence of two years in penitentiary was imposed by His Lordship in the case of Emile Calve, 44, no fixed address, who was found guilty by a jury Friday on a charge of false pretences. The sentence is to start from the date of his conviction.

The dark-haired nattily-dressed accused who has served several prison terms for bogus cheques in Victoria, Vancouver and cities in eastern Canada, promised His Lordship to "mend his ways" if he was given one more chance.

He blamed his present trouble on drink. "I have learned since that drink is not the solutions to my many problems," he said. "I ask your Lordship for mercy."

Referring to the fact the accused, in 1952, was convicted in Victoria for a similar offense, Mr. Justice Whittaker said:

"The magistrates in the past have been lenient with you in the hopes that you would mend your ways," he said. "You have not done so."

Calve asked His Lordship to sentence him to Oakalla prison instead of penitentiary.

"No," said Mr. Justice Whittaker. "I think it should be the penitentiary."

Six Finalists Named in UN Essay Contest

Preliminary judging has been completed in a contest among Greater Victoria High School students for a month's trip to United Nations headquarters in New York City, sponsored by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Six students have been selected on the basis of essays about the UN. The final winner will be chosen at a social evening in the Odd Fellows Hall April 5 when these six will make five to 10-minute speeches on "What a Trip Across the Continent Could Mean to Me."

The six selected on the basis of essays are: Brian Howard, Dick Pomeroy, Barbara Sanson, John Sawyer and Peter William son of Victoria High and Myrna C. Hunter of Esquimalt High.

A winner, and an alternate will be selected from the speech-making. The trip is to occupy the whole of July and will include attendance at UN sessions as well as sightseeing in parts of Canada and the United States.

Mrs. Hincks Memorial

Friends of Mrs. Norah Hincks, Langford, who died Friday after a sudden illness, are considering immediate institution of a fund to provide some type of memorial in her name.

Times correspondent at Langford for 30 years, Mrs. Hincks belonged to practically all Langford organizations, and was especially interested in St. Matthew's Church Guild.

Burial was to take place this afternoon.

"She loved children and the church," said one resident who did not wish his name published. "Since the church is to be moved and enlarged in the near future, we thought if a fund was started now, it might provide a memorial baptismal font in time for the change."

Famed Social Work Pioneer Marks 95th Birthday Here

Dr. Alice Ravenhill, a pioneer social worker and who is recognized in the United States as one of the founders of home economic courses in schools and universities, will celebrate her 95th birthday in Royal Jubilee Hospital Wednesday.

Mrs. Ravenhill was admitted to hospital recently, when she suffered a broken hip. Born in 1859 in Essex, Eng., Dr. Ravenhill first worked to improve living conditions in the rural and factory districts of Britain. In 1912 she was invited to the United States to lecture on home economics where she remained until 1919 promoting health and educational reforms.

In Canada, she became one of the champions for reforms in the administration of Indians and was largely responsible for making the native art of B.C. known throughout the world.

In 1939, she founded the Indian Arts and Welfare Society which today is carrying on her work. Several of her books on native art, legends and history, have also been published by the provincial department of education.

TOMBSTONE FORECAST OUT ONE DAY

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Five years ago a salesman bought a tombstone for his cemetery plot and had it lettered: "J. L. Hopcroft, born Oct. 24, 1866, died March 25, 1954." The tombstone was put to use at Hopcroft's funeral Saturday. The 87-year-old salesman died Wednesday, only one day earlier than he had predicted. Death was due to natural causes.

U.S. EXECUTIONS DROP

Fewer persons were put to death for crimes in the United States last year than in any previous year. The federal prison bureau, which considers that accurate records go back to 1930, said the 1953 total of 62 executions was the smallest, 20 fewer than the previous low set in 1950.

FINAL BULLETINS

H-Bomb Test Friday Successful

WASHINGTON, D.C. (BUP)—Chairman Lewis Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission said a second H-bomb test was successfully carried out last Friday, March 26. An announcement from the AEC said: "In preparation for the test, the naval and air force units attached to the task force carefully searched the area both visually and by radar. No shipping was discovered in the area."

It added: "Information highly important to national defense is being derived from this series of tests."

Radio-Active Snow Said Harmless

SASKATOON (CP)—A university expert said today that people have no need to be alarmed over the week-end report that a geiger counter found snow was radioactive in the Saskatchewan town of Melfort. Dr. B. W. Currie, head of the physics department of the University of Saskatchewan, said he is convinced that radioactive materials from atomic and hydrogen bomb tests are being carried in the atmosphere and coming to earth here and in other places.

But he said they are in such minute quantities as to be harmless.

Calgary Man Killed in U.S. Crash

ELLENBURG, Wash. (BUP)—Wayne G. Grant, 21, of Calgary, Alta., was killed today when the car in which he was riding left the highway near here and overturned.

Moves to Boost Pipe Line Stock

OTTAWA (CP)—The government today introduced legislation to increase capital stock of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. to $800,000,000 from $500,000,000. The company's capital stock would be composed of 10,000,000 common shares at par value of $1, and 1,000,000 preferred shares at par value of $50. The capitalization has been approved by the Senate.

Nine Die Violently In B.C. Over Week-End

British Columbia recorded a grim mark of nine accidental deaths during the week-end as four persons died in traffic accidents, three in a fire, one by carbon monoxide gassing, and one by domestic gassing.

Killed in traffic accidents were Mrs. Pauline Johnson of Newton, 43; Ken Robertson of Schumacher, Ont., 20; Mrs. Alma J. Nash, 65, of Notch Hill, near Salmon Arm, and Lyle Clark, 20, of Cloverdale.

Frank Williams, of Penticton, died in his garage when he was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes from his car, and Mrs. Phyllis Leitch, 38, died in her Vancouver home after being overcome by domestic gas.

SIX INJURED
Mrs. Johnson and Robertson died in a two-car head-on collision at the intersection of King George Road and Campbell River Road in Surrey on Saturday. Six other persons were injured in the same accident.

Mrs. Nash died in a two-car collision on the Trans-Canada Highway six miles west of Salmon Arm in the North Okanagan. Clark, a naval rating, drowned when his car plunged off a dock on the Fraser River at Port Kells. Three other persons escaped.

Mrs. Leitch, the 25th person to die of gassing in Vancouver this year, was found unconscious on the floor of her kitchen by her 18-year-old son, Graham, Sunday morning. All jets in the oven of her stove were open, but not burning.

Three persons, Mr. and Mrs. Helge Forsberg, both about 45, and Alex Beaudoin, 70, died in a house fire at Port Hardy Saturday. (See page 22.)

1,500 LIVES SAVED AS TROOPSHIP BURNS

COLD WEATHER TO CONTINUE; FROST TONIGHT

There will be clear skies tonight and sunshine Tuesday, and continuation of the present frigid temperatures that have set new records for this time of year.

On Sunday the thermometer at the Gonzales Observatory dropped to 29.9 degrees to mark an all-time low for March 25. Temperatures tonight and Tuesday will range between 32 and 50 degrees, according to weatherman William Mackie, and winds will be light northerly. He also warned against freezing temperatures and ground frost tonight in sheltered, low-lying areas of the city and district.

Winds were strong Saturday night, when a maximum speed of 57 miles per hour was reached at 11.30 p.m.

Despite the shivers on the part of the populace, daffodil growers are pleased with the turn of the weather, since the cold will retard growth and let the blooms reach their peak for the Easter season.

Alaska Rotarian Shivers in Sunny South

Nine hundred Rotarians are in Victoria from Alaska, Washington and B.C. for annual Rotary District 151 Conference—but only the Alaskans shivered when Victoria thermometers dipped to an un-springlike 29.9 degrees Sunday. Bill Wood (centre), member of the delegation from Rotary Club at Ketchikan, Alaska, regretted he'd forgotten his fur-lined parka and mukluks.

"Thought this was the banana belt," he shivered. Ted Cox, Vancouver (left), and Pat Love, Tacoma, loyal North-westerners, had little sympathy. They chortled it was mighty warm for an Alaskan's March. Conference concludes Tuesday night. (See also Page 13).—(Times Photo.)

CHURCHILL TO SPEAK ON H-BOMB

'We'll Lay Off if You Will' U.K. Paper Would Tell Reds

LONDON (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill today prepared the text of his reply in parliament Tuesday to an outburst of public alarm over further hydrogen bomb tests.

There is fresh evidence they are pressing on with their own atomic warfare experiments," the sketch said. "No need for an international atomic commission to be called in. No need for any formal agreement. Just a simple statement—We will lay off if you lay off."

The 79-year-old prime minister will answer 15 separate queries, mainly from Socialists, on whether he will intervene with President Eisenhower or seek highest-level talks with Russia on atomic disarmament.

Churchill Sunday called in Lord Catterall, his veteran atomic adviser, for technical discussion of the American H-bomb explosion at Bikini March 1, which surpassed the expectations of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Today, Labor member of parliament Maurice Edelman declared: "It is up to Britain to cry halt—in the name of sanity."

He issued his appeal in the Labor newspaper, The Daily Herald, following Washington reports another H-bomb test will be held next month.

The Conservative Daily Sketch agreed "this awful experiment should be stopped."

It said a halt to the test could serve "as a contribution toward a new working agreement with Russia on atomic disarmament."

"Let us tell the Russians that we will not explode another atomic bomb unless and until

Ailing Naguib's Plan For Civil Rule Fails

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—President-Premier Mohammed Naguib's plan for an early restoration of civilian rule in disension-torn Egypt collapsed today.

But in a strange compromise agreement with his opponents inside the Revolutionary Council Naguib retained all his posts of power.

The about-face climaxed a series of events which began this morning when Naguib fainted from strain at Cairo's airport and ended with the announcement that the plan to dissolve Egypt's ruling Revolutionary Council on July 24 and hold constituent assembly elections had been cancelled.

The decision was reached at a joint meeting of the civilian cabinet and the Revolutionary Council, at which Naguib presided briefly.

It apparently meant that Naguib had lost his shaky grip on the nation's quarrelling government.

Naguib's physical collapse at Cairo's airport and the week-end uprising against his plans to restore civil rule, played strongly into Nasser's hands in the bitter power struggle.

Naguib, apparently sensing his defeat, was said by witnesses to have whispered "I want to die" when doctors at a hospital revived him with heart stimulants.

Mediterranean Drama Sets Modern Record

(From UP and AP Dispatches)

ALGIERS, Algeria—British authorities today ordered an investigation into the possibility that the British troopship, Empire Windrush, swept by a near-disastrous fire in mid-Mediterranean, may have been sabotaged as it passed through the disputed Suez Canal zone.

In the greatest sea rescue of modern times, 1,500, including 125 women and 87 children, were saved from the burning vessel Sunday.

Four crewmen died in the wracking explosion which ripped the ship's boiler room before the fire. Even 27 mental patients, freed from locked cabins, were saved and helped direct the heroic rescue work.

The transport, en route to England from the Far East, had stopped at Port Said in the troubled Suez Canal Zone before the fire. British sea transport authorities said an inquiry will be made into the possibility that sabotage there might have touched off the later explosion and fire.

Flash fires raced through the vessel after the boiler room explosion and left the 14,561-ton vessel a burned-out hulk. All save those who died in the explosion were brought safely to this North African port by four rescue ships. They had abandoned the burning hulk without panic and only 18 persons were injured—14 with minor burns and scratches, a 12-year-old boy with a broken leg and three adults with shock.

Two British destroyers arrived here today to assist the 1,500 survivors and the light carrier Triumph was expected momentarily to pick up the passengers and continue their trip to England. The destroyers, the Saintes and St. Kitts, were ordered to give all possible aid to civil authorities taking care of the survivors.

First rescue ship to arrive was the Dutch freighter Mentor captained by Geert Hazelhoff, 53, a veteran of the sea for more than 30 years.

SECOND INSTALLMENT

Welfare Costs Loaded on BCHIS

(Former Premier Byron Johnson, who "fathered" B.C.'s first hospital insurance scheme in 1945, has written an analysis of the new hospital scheme before the Legislature. Mr. Johnson's plan was based on people being guaranteed hospital care in return for paying an annual premium. The new sales tax payment plan turns this into a completely new welfare scheme, Mr. Johnson finds. Following is the second article.)

By BYRON I. JOHNSON

Now, may I, for the sake of the scheme which is being abandoned, review what has been accomplished by the hospital insurance service during the time it has been in operation, as revealed by Mr. Martin in his speech to the Legislature a few days ago. Let me first segregate the figures into categories where they belong—as below:

Applicable to: Municipal per diem grants Welfare Provincial Hospital Insurance per diem grants $3,339,812.25
Premiums $68,791,449.89 $4,036,185.29 5,499,924.60 $6,986,469.10
Subsidy 17,766,114.00
Stabilization Fund 2,000,000.00
Less Cash 7,087,183.84
$81,470,380.05

On Page 27 of the budget speech of 1952 which I presented to the Legislature on March 4, 1952, the following appears: "However, Madam Speaker, it was not realized at the time that hospital insurance was established that the incidence of sickness amongst our aged people and others in receipt of welfare allowance was as high as it is. We find that the premiums paid for these persons do not begin to cover the hospital costs."

Since it was never intended that hospital insurance should finance our social assistance program, it has been deemed necessary to provide in the estimates for the coming year a further $1,546,000.00 which, together with the premium payments for those in receipt of allowances under our social welfare program, should be sufficient to cover the entire cost of hospitalization of such cases.

I make this explanation in detail, Madam Speaker, in order to emphasize that the government never intended, and does not intend, to burden those who pay premiums with the cost of those welfare services which rightfully belong in our Health and Welfare Department."

In Mr. Martin's report to the Legislature he lists payments which belong in the estimates of the Health and Welfare Department as a part of the "cost" of hospital insurance service. At the inception of the scheme the municipal governments and the provincial government each paid a per diem grant of 70 cents a patient in municipal areas, and the provincial government paid a 7.5 cent per diem grant for patients from unorganized territory, to the hospitals.

There was no intention to unload this expense on to the premium payers. This is made clear on Page 27 of the budget speech of March 4, 1952. To meet these expenses 2 per cent of the present 3 per cent sales tax was allocated to our welfare services.

For simplification in administration the subsidies were paid into the hospital insurance service. These are charges which are covered by the revenue from the present sales tax and should not be included as a cost in the hospital insurance service. These amounts, as listed by Mr. Martin on Pages 15 and 16 of his speech on the budget, are listed for the period Continued on Page 5)

Quake Rocks Cadiz

CADIZ, Spain (UP)—Violent earthquakes jolted Cadiz today and rocked buildings across the Mediterranean in Morocco.

See where Sir Winston's goin' t' make an announcement on th' atomic bomb 'morra. He's tetcht off a few political ones himself, in his time.

Seems clear th' new labor law ain't goin' t' be born 'thout a few labor pains.

Looks like one o' my pet ideas is fin'ly comin' into reality—havin' our winter just at night an' summer in th' daytime.
